

VOLUME III.

BRAINER, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 8, 1884.

NUMBER 34.

ROMANCE.

From the Spanish of Giovanni Bequer.
Before that I shall die,
For my heart is true,
Bleeding to death, the cruel steel Thy hand has laid on me.

Before that I shall die,
But faithful still shall be,
For sealed at the gate of death, My soul will wait for thee.
Day after day, year after year, Until the life be past,
And at that parting shall knock Where all shall knock at last!

Then, when the earth is lying still On the life and the dead, When plunged in death's eternal stream Washed pure, then shall arise, There, where the world of mankind Is heard but never seen, Gone, like the wind that raised the wave,
The spirit wave on the shore.

There, where to live is not to die,
To live is not to die,
We shall know all, for we shall speak All that we speak not here.

—Richard Henry Stoddard, in "The Manhattan."

ON THE FLYING TRAPEZE.

BY MRS. M. P. HANDY.

Signor Francesco, the World-Renowned Gymnast, as the posters had it, in letters two feet long, was one of the chief attractions of the Grecian Gardens, and his daring performances upon cross-bar and trapeze nightly drew a crowd to the popular place of amusement. As to the "world-wide renown," that was an overstatement; in point of fact, he had never been beyond the limits of the United States, and his first and only laurels in the gymnastic line had been won upon the stage of the Grecian Gardens.

To tell the carefully-concealed truth,
Signor Francesco had a double existence.
For one hour every evening, Sundays excepted, he was the hero of the ring, —the idol of the gallery,—the rest of the time he was Frank Beverly, reporter on The Evening Message.

The reason of the riddle was not far to seek. Poverty was a common form of mystery, makes a man acquainted with strange bedfellows. His family were Virginians, dwelling on the Rappahannock River, and for four years the tide of battle surged back and forth over their home. When at last the bloody contest was ended, and they returned after three years of life as refugees, scarcely anything was left save the land, and the very face of that was altered, ruined into redoubts and seawall with potholes, which gaped like raw wounds on its surface.

Not a tree remained of all their stately forests; the house had been burned to the ground, and the only relic of the overseer, who had elected to stay at home when his employers fled, was left standing. In this they took up their abode, and went to work to piece their ruined fortunes as best they might. Slowly the fertile soil repaid their labors; vineyards and orchards grew to replace those which had vanished; a comfortable, though far from opulent, house rose on the site of the old home,
and the wounds of the war were outwardly healed.

Money was scarce, and when Frank, the youngest and only remaining son, was old enough to go to college, the plantation was mortgaged to supply the necessary funds. The traditions of the family must be observed at any cost.

Coming home with his dearly-bought diploma, Frank had no thought but to go to the world's eyes as speedily as possible. Casting about for the fitting place to attack that obstinate halva, he bethought him of a cousin of his mother's, who, emigrating to the West before the great war, had the right side of the conflict, was now the prosperous owner of a Northern journal. To him Frank wrote, asking for a position, receiving in reply permission to begin at the bottom and work his way up, if he could. The process of climbing was, however, by no means so rapid as he had supposed, and it was not possible to save much on a salary of ten dollars a week, and months passed without hope of increase. He did his duty, he wrote, he was a good hand, and his university degree, much to his surprise, counted nothing in his favor.

Thus matters stood, when one evening he went with two friends to see the performance at The Grecian Gardens. Here Krawisky, or some other man with an unappealing name, was the star performer, and his efforts were greeted with such a cheering in which Frank's companions joined.

"Why don't you clap?" they asked him at length.

"I don't think he is doing anything remarkable," he replied. "Do you?"

"Come, now, don't put on. Why he is one of the best gymnasts in the country!"

"Is he? Well, I mean what I say.
I don't see that he is doing anything wonderful. I believe I could do almost everything we have seen him do tomorrow."

"Tell that to the marines," said Will Harris of The Hue and Cry, and "Bet you ten dollars you couldn't," said George Wharton of The Daily Gong.
Frank flushed anger, and taking the word "I say," he repeated doggedly.
"You may believe me or not, just as you choose!" he was told.

"Well, you needn't get up on your ear about it,—it's easy enough to say that you can do it," said Will Harris, good-humoredly. "Let me see you do it."

"So, when the curtain fell for the last time that evening, the party adjourned to the green-room, where Harris laid the case before the proprietor of "The Gardens," who readily acceded to the proposals which were made.

Although somewhat out of practice, Frank was on his mettle, and went through the trial triumphantly, to the astonishment of his comrades, and the discomfiture of Mr. Legget, who shook hands with him enthusiastically, and offered him an engagement on the spot.

"Thank you," Frank replied; "a little stiffly, I thought, but I know that only a compliment was intended. I am not a professional."

"But you ought to be," said Legget, "and if you ever want to go into the gymnastic line, come and see me."

"Thank you, but I don't think that at all likely," the young man replied with dignity.

Shortly after this, Herr Krawisky met with an accident, which, as the newspapers put it, "necessitated his temporary withdrawal from the stage," and Mr. Legget, remembering Frank's skill, sent him an offer through Harris, of the vacant situation, with a salary of fifty dollars a week.

"I wouldn't do it for a hundred!" was the indignant answer, duly repeated to Legget.

Gymnasts were at a premium just then, and it was difficult to secure a star performer. "Very well, then," said Mr. Legget, "tell him I will make it a hundred and ten."

When this offer reached him, Frank was shaken. A hundred and ten dollars a week! It seemed like a fortune to him.

could pay the mortgage,—for a year, and he might go home, marry Jane, and settle on the old place.

For in the course of the case,—a pretty Virginia girl to whom he was engaged, and who had been his sweetheart ever since they were children.
He could not remember the time when his heart was not in love with Jane. But matrimony seemed hopelessly far off; how could they marry on ten dollars a week and a heritage of debt?

This offer, however, seemed to open the door to hope. Still, such a door!
A Beverly, a circus-actor! That was what it was in plain language,—neither more nor less. Angels and ministers of grace defend! What would his father-in-law say? And his father?
Not to speak of the howl of horror which would surely be raised by all his relatives and relatives to the remotest degree. But a hundred and ten dollars a week for an hour's work every night!
The lure thought made his head swim.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is no less than a woman," who hesitates is lost," the next day he signed the contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

He made up his mind, and he thought
it over, he said. "Since the man is
no less than a woman," who hesitates
is lost," the next day he signed the
contract with Legget for the season.

brought all the strain in the proper place for comfort.

In old times, when "Mazeppa" was the rage, the writer joined the mob in hows of wonder and delight at the spectacle of the hero's "fery, untamed Ukraine steed" thrusting his nose to his insensible master's face and caressing him labially after the most terrible manner.
At a later day, when this deponent, from a coin of vantage in the second entrance, O. P., detected that Mazeppa held a carrot under his arm, and that it was not love of the hero's taste of vegetables that actuated the noble steed, he felt sick at heart at the rude dispelling of the poetry of his boyhood.

But viewed from the audience, and faintly standing on a tottering ladder and growing at the grimy carpenter, who is steadying it, it is quite another thing.

A railroad train rushing by was for a long time a thrilling sensation. Yet it is simply several sections of painted canvas on framework, run across the stage and fastened to the rails by a single rope, and the only real thing it touches the sidewalk of the theatre.

The effect of sudden clouds in a storm at sea is only the dragging across the stage of a canvas with grace, painted sailed on it, and touched up by the painter to resemble clouds under the uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

A fog of mist and a heavy haze
sailed on it, and touched up by the
painter to resemble clouds under the
uncertain light of the stage.

Miscellaneous Matter.
A large codfish that was shot at some time ago by a sportsman near Galveston is now lying dead about five miles down the Gulf. It is supposed that the shot proved fatal.

North Carolina has 70,000 acres of tobacco this year in eighty-seven of ninety-six counties. There were 64,000 acres last year. Farmers' profits are 51 per cent.

Cassels Magazine: Gold beaters by hammering can reduce gold leaves so thin that 252,000 may be laid upon the surface of a needle. This is a fine, yet each leaf is so perfect and even from holes that one of them laid upon any surface, as in gilding gives the appearance of solid gold.

In a memorandum recently issued by the New York state board of health, it says that "for cholera to be diffused from continent to continent it must have as a factor for its cultivation a center of pollution for its cradle, a ship for its transport, and a number of towns prepared for its reception and development."

A Brooklyn man, who was angered by his wife's neglect to mend his pants-loons, hung them out of a front window of his residence, and in winter, when statute that fact and ascribing it to laziness on her part.

The Boston Herald thinks that the watermelon is a much-abused fruit.
Eaten when it is fresh and ripe, at the proper time—which means of course at breakfast—it is a wholesome and harmless article of diet. Eaten when under-ripe or stale, or on top of a big dinner of rich food, it often creates a disturbance. And no wonder.

Mellons can be sent from Atlanta to New York or Philadelphia for about four cents freight each, and in less than two days' time. There are four hundred tons of one thousand inhabitants or more west and southwest of New York and east of the Mississippi to which mellons may be sent.

They evade the liquor law in Kansas in this way. The stuff is kept in a room of a detached house, which is kept locked. The owner is conveniently near, and hands the key of the house to the waiter. One day in winter, particularly about Christmas time, the strange procession will sometimes pass through a village where an incoherent drunkard, with a little hand, will tap at the window, and when the mourner looks out she will see her child no longer the baby they carried to the church-yard six months ago, but a little boy, who, when he was a baby, was a body, one would take to be three or four years old. And he knows at once that it is her own, and it says, "Mother, I have come home. I have grown so big, I can scarcely carry it, and they drip down on my clothes and make them so cold and cumbersome that I can't perform duty as a housemaid. If the glances down the street she will see a form so bright "that you might have taken it for our Lady's," with a strong beard, and a long, long around her,
"as if they loved her."

Looking glasses, according to the Medical Record, are responsible for mercurial poisoning. In two cases given of a man and his wife, the cause of the trouble was in a looking-glass hanging in the bedroom.

One Wing of the Chinese Army.
With these troops also bows and arrows are the favorite weapons, though a small proportion of the army carry matchlocks. Six times a month they practice archery on foot, and every spring and summer, dressed in armor they go through the same exercise on horseback. This division furnishes a small portion of the army, and is forbidden city, whose duty is to sit holding a red bar across the gateway, and who rise only to princes of the blood. It also supplies the night patroles within the forbidden city, who allow no one either to enter or leave the precincts unless he be the bearer of a broken token which, when fitted into the hole of the gate, will admit possession of the officer on duty match-locks exactly. The "light division," as its name indicates, is especially intended for service requiring speed and agility.
The army is drilled six times a month with the scaling ladder, when they also fire three volleys with the matchlock; six times they wrestle and perform other feats of manhood, and one rider leaping on the back of another's horse, put at a gallop, while the rider of the latter similarly exchange his seat with the other. When the matchlocks they likewise fire three rounds with the matchlock, shoot three flights of arrows, and attack and defend with the sword and iron whip and fan.

The late Paul Morphy played several games of chess with the great monarchs of Europe. He gallantly allowed Queen Victoria to beat him, but treated Napoleon III and King William of Prussia with a more determined resistance, and in advantage over him and then sweeping them from the board unmercifully.

The wealth of the United States is $50,000,000,000, or $900 to each inhabitant; that of Great Britain is $40,000, 000,000, or $1,000 to each inhabitant.

From Greenland's Icy Mountains.
Yesterday afternoon on the balcony of the Russell house a reporter of the Free Press was introduced to Herr Geauble, a gentleman from Godthaab, who stopped for a day's rest while on his way home after having gone overland to Sitka, Alaska, thence by boat to Frisco, etc.

Mr. Geauble is a man of medium height, rather stout, with a round, ruddy face, heavy whiskers, of a bright red color. He is a Dane by birth, but has lived in Greenland since 1858, and speaks English fluently. He is a member of the Greenland Falming company, originally established in 1823, and also an extensive dealer in furs.

He has been away from his home since February, 1883, during which time he has visited most of the important trade posts on Hudson Bay and through British America to Sitka.

He was attired in a suit of fashionably cut striped duck, and with a straw hat, a large palm-leaf fan and perfect quiet he sat down to tell his story.

"You find it rather warm," ventured the reporter as a feeler.

"Yes, but not as hot as it was one or two weeks in Denver, last week."

"Do you prefer—"

"Now let me tell you something about my country before you ask it, for I've met you people before and I know your ways. (See you see? God on—your American slang? Greenland is an island frozen tightly to the north pole.

It is chiefly settled by Greenlanders and a few Norwegians and Swedes. These are the men, whose business it is to call out, or rather to recite, before the eyes of those who wish

Brainerd Dispatch

Issued every Thursday morning at Brainerd, Minn. Terms $1.50 per year, in ADVANCE.

N. H. Ingersoll, Editor and Proprietor.
F. W. Wickland, Editor and Proprietor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF CROW WING, CASS, FRANK AND AITKEN COUNTIES, and the City of Brainerd.

POPULATION OF BRAINERD 10,000.

Entered at the Post Office at Brainerd, Minn.,
as second-class matter.

Alaska is soon to have her first paper.

The Cincinnati riot cost the
county $77,984.

During July 25,167 immigrants landed in New York.

Lookout Mountain has been purchased by a railroad company and the historic spot will be converted into a summer resort.

President Harris has completed his tour of inspection over the Northern Pacific railroad. Reporters, finding him exceeding uncommunicative concerning matters of interest affecting the road, and the public will probably have to wait awhile ere its courtesy is satisfied.

Judge Hays of the Seventh judicial district of Iowa holds the justices of the peace have no jurisdiction in cases under the new liquor law other than to hold preliminary examinations and bind defendants over for trial in the district court. The decision is of importance in so far as it determines the proper court in which the prosecutions should be brought.

At Narraquasset park Friday the Wisconsin trotting wonder, Jay-Eye-See, again lowered the record, doing a mile in 2:10. His previous record was 2:10 and a fraction. Maud S., 2:10, but now the famous little mare must acknowledge the weakness of her sex. Perhaps, however, Friday's performance will rouse Mr. Vanderbilt's jealousy for his favorite's reputation, and we may see the record drop another notch.

The sixtieth annual session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows will be held in the city of Minneapolis, Minnesota, beginning on Monday the 15th of September next. It has always been considered a high compliment paid to the city selected for the meeting of this august body; and as Minneapolis is a point further west than has ever before been chosen, except once, when San Francisco, Cal., was chosen, it was the place, the favored Odd Fellows and citizens generally of young and enterprising Minneapolis will vie each other in their efforts to give the members of the Sovereign Grand Lodge a generous royal reception.

Father Stephan director of the Catholic Indian bureau, has just returned from a visit to the Indian reservation at Devil's Lake. He found the Indians all engaged in working small farms of from ten to forty acres each. They are splendid wheat crop, besides barley and other cereals, and are happy, industrious and contented. Maj Cramsie, the agent is a live, energetic manager, and makes the Indians work, so that they are now self sustaining, and only receive government rations when they are sick. Father Stephens expresses himself as highly pleased with his trip.

Senator Sablin's Views.

"Blaine's chances are excellent and have improved steadily since the nomination," said Senator D.
M. Sablin at the Continental hotel Thursday to a Philadelphia Times reporter. "Our state is good for 40,000 Republican majority any-
how. The tariff issue is the one the campaign will be on, and a most important one it is to all the manufacturing interests of the country, especially to this section.
Blaine I have not seen since March,
but Logan I have frequently held conversation with during the last month or so, and of this I can assure you, they both have explicit confidence in their election. There is, in my judgment, not the slightest chance of Carter Harrison being elected governor of Illinois. He has as much chance of it as Cleveland has of carrying the State of Pennsylvania. Can I express myself more strongly than that? There is a great sympathy for Blaine manifest among the Irish population of the western states, and it seems to be growing too. I have just returned from New York, and found Blaine's managers there enthusiastic believers in his success. While I never had any doubt of Blaine's carrying the state I was not prepared to find them so confident of a big majority, ranging anywhere from thirty-five to seventy thousand. The Independent defection I regard as a very slight one, amounting to much less indeed than I thought it did at first.

The St. Paul Dispatch has secured, at considerable expense and arduous effort, the long-looked-for letter of congratulation from Tilden to Cleveland. We give it herewith:
To Grover Cleveland, Albany Dear Sir: Copenhagen dynamite Barium Edinburgh philanthropy fraud sponsors Oregon usurious trusts cheese acoustic. Samuel J. Tilden.

A free translation of this "cypher" would read:

"You have a heartfelt sympathy.
Keep your eye on Barium, he's a great milkier. Wear a green vest and smoke a clay pipe. Marry the girl. Don't convey the 'green' frauds. Keep away from Oregon, as I believe Salt river runs in the neighborhood. Hendricks will keep up the supply of jackasses in Indiana. I trust. Don't talk too much with your mouth."

His Po Painted.

"Mac," said the small boy as they were taking the train out of town a few days ago, "you'll see something funny when we get back."

"What will it be?" inquired the mother.

"Why, all the buildings will be different color."

"Nonsense, child what gave you that idea?"

"Well pa told Mr. Smith last night that when you and me went away he was going to paint the town red," and then he wondered why his mother wouldn't let him stand up on the seat or buy him

A Queer Colony.

Perham Bulletin: Some time ago there was a dissension in the Catholic church in Mercer county, Ohio, caused by the father of the church being unwilling to submit to the rulings of the bishop, and one Father Joseph was expelled from the church, and at his expulsion several of his followers also left and formed a colony and came to Rush Lake in this county.
As farmers they were prosperous and generous, it being one of their creeds to always lend a helping hand to the poor, and for all their aid furnished they never took interest, note or usury. Everything went on harmoniously until about three months ago, when their leader, Father Joseph, died. After his demise they were unable to procure a father, in consequence of which they made arrangements to leave their beautiful farms, crops and everything, and seek some far-Western home. In accordance with these arrangements, they chartered an emigrant steamer of the North-Pacific, and started on their journey last Saturday morning.
The car was left last Friday night, in order to give them ample time to arrange their baggage and lunch for the trip to Portland, Or.
The steamer was a new one and would accommodate about fifty persons. After their departure it was discovered that they had taken the body of Father Joseph with them.

All Villainous Mate.

Key West, Aug. 6.—Mate
Walker, of the Julia Baker, who has been personating Capt Lewis the dead master of the vessel, was to-day arraigned on a charge of running away with the vessel and disposing of the cargo. The testimony proved that the master was sick when the vessel sailed. The sixth day the man at the wheel saw the captain fall from his chair in the cabin. He was picked up by the mate and steward and laid on a mattress. They then administered something to him from a bottle and the master died in a few minutes. The mate immediately changed the vessel's course so as to reach the Bahamas islands.
She was originally bound for Trinidad. Arriving at fortune island the mate sold a deck load of lumber and then went to Inagua, where he sold some flour and bread.
The vessel was then taken to an uninhabited island, where she met a small schooner which took on board 120 barrels of flour and departed. Mate Walker going with her. Walker returned with her in five days having been able to sell only twelve barrels of flour. He gave the sail schooner twenty barrels for the services and she left, the steward going with her. The Julia Baker came to this point, where the balance of her cargo of flour was offered for sale. Walker held in $2,000 for trial at the November term of court.

The first bale of New York hops was sent to Chicago.

Mississippi's $500,000 of levee bonds have been sold.

Long Island potatoes are $1.50 per barrel in New York.

Bees attacked a Northwestern passenger train near Lake Forest.

Jefferson, the negro murder, sold his body to a New York museum.

Lizzy Miner, New London Conn went crazy at a salivation meeting.

Hamilton, Ont., had a great trades and labor demonstration yesterday.

A New York company is formed to build a pneumatic tube to Chicago.

Dozens of Chinese stowaways are found on incoming steamers.

The Security Savings bank of Newark N. J., was opened with prayer Saturday.

County Commissioners.

SPECIAL MEETING.

Auditors Office, July 8, 1884.

Pursuant to call the commissioners met. All members were present.

The following resolution was adopted:
Resolved, That the county treasurer be authorized such funds as are available for the payment of a certain order numbered 2726, for the amount of $3,500, and interest thereon. The same to be used from Cass county funds.

The resolution was supported by commissioners Gardner and Martin and opposed by Commissioner Foster.

On motion the meeting adjourned sine die.

Attest,
F. B. THOMPSON,
Mayor.

AUDITOR'S OFFICE, Aug. 5th 1884.

Pursuant to adjournment the commissioners met. All present.

The following bills were allowed:
C. O'Brien, witness fees in Justice court, $1.12

W. A. Smith & Co., goods furnished paupers, $4.67

A. W. Frater, entering tax judgment, $361.80

Brainerd Dispatch, printing delinquent tax list, $10.15

J. B. Douglas, fee in state cases, $101.46

P. Merit, board of prisoners and jailors fees for July, $154.60

Arthur McCormick, witness fees in Justice court, $3.36

Society of Mercy, maintaining four paupers 14 weeks, $4.00

Joel Smith, Lumber for bridges, $46.58

Parsons & Camp, attending paupers and medicines, amount of bill, $24. Amount allowed, $12.00

Andrew Lignau services as road overseer, $18.00

The bill of George S. Canfield for printing and stationery was laid on the table.

The following abatements were made on the tax list of 1883.

Lot 22, of block 93, abated to $180 valuation.

Lot 6 of block 5, East Brainerd, abated to $750 valuation.

Lot 2 of block 1, Miller's addition abated to $200 valuation.

Lot 5, of block 3, Sleeper's addition, abated to $225.

The following resolutions were adopted:
Resolved, That the sheriff be instructed to collect all liquor licenses which have not already been paid in Cass county.

Resolved, That temporary aid be given Mrs. N. F. Smith in support of herself and five children.

Louie Wood was given notice by chairman Rosser to leave Crow Wing county because of a county charge.

On motion the council adjourned to Tuesday September 2.

Attest, F. B. THOMPSON,
County Auditor.

"Give us Facts!"

This is the cry of intelligent voters. A brief and pointed statement of the situation with succinct items in the lives of the candidates, and a reliable com-pend of political statistics, comprise about what is wanted immediately. Volumes professing to respond to this demand in the Republican party were issued several days ago, but those we have seen are mere catch-penny affairs, except the elementary work issued from the press of Messrs. James Brothers & Co., Chicago, which is written and edited by the well-known historian, John Clark Ridpath, LL. D. It comprises extended and excellent biographies of Blaine and Logan; a summary of the Convention that nominated them; full table of political statistics; a valuable history of tariff legislation in United States history of all political parties since the foundation of the government; tabulated facts and figures of every Presidential election; lives and administrations of all the Presidents; and a great mass of the most desirable information, which can not be found in any other form. It is elegantly printed and bound, and illustrated with about forty engravings, germane to the text. It answers any question that can possibly arise among Republican voters in the pending campaign, and we understand it is enjoying an immense sale, as it certainly deserves.

Notice of Mortgage Sale

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed and delivered by Frank W. Earle and Eva V. Earle, of Brainerd, Crow Wing county, Minnesota, martgagee, to Samuel Walker of said Brainerd, mortgagee, dated the fourth day of December,
A. D. eighteen hundred and eighty three and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the county of Crow Wing in state of Minnnesota on the sixth day of December, A. D. 1883, at 10 o'clock a. m. in book C of Mortgages, page 179, on which there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, the amount of Three hundred and twenty dollars, and thirty three cents, and no action or proceeding has been instituted at law or in equity to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof, and whereas said mortgage was duly assigned by said Samuel Walker to Charles A. Walker of Minneapolis, Minnesota, county, Minnesota, by assignment, dated the fourth day of April, A. D. 1884, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on the fifth day of April, A. D. 1884, at 11:30 o'clock a. m. in book C of Mortgages on page 202.

Now, Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and of the statute in such case made, and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by sale of the mortgaged premises therein described, at public auction at the front door of the Court House in the city of Brainerd, Minnesota, on Tuesday the 20th day of September, A. D. eighteen hundred and eighty-four at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, to satisfy the amount which shall then be due on said mortgage, with the interest thereon, and costs and expenses of sale, and twenty-five dollars attorney's fees, as stipulated in said mortgage in case of foreclosure.

The premises described in said mortgage, and so to be sold, are the lot, piece, or parcel of land situated in the city of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, and known and described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the corner of the lot and block number two hundred and two in the town of Brainerd. Thence north thirty-seven and one-half feet, thence east fifty feet, thence south thirty-seven and one-half feet, thence west fifty feet to the place of beginning, being a part of lot number thirteen and fourteen of block number two hundred and two (202) in the town and city of Brainerd, according to the recorded plat thereof on file in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Crow Wing county, Minnnesota.

CHARLES A. WALKER, Mortgagee.

G. S. FERNALD, Attorney of Mortgage.

Brainerd, Minn., July 26th, 1884.

Notice of Dissolution.

The partnership heretofore existing between Frank Currie and A. L. Hoffman as Frank Currie & Co., is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owing said firm are to be paid to Frank Currie, and all debts contracted by said firm to be paid by said Frank Currie.

FRANK CURRIE,
A. L. HOFFMAN.

Brainerd, Minn., July 26th, 1884.

Notice.

U. S. Land Office, Cloud, Minn., July 8th, 1884.

Complaint having been entered at this office by Roger S. Jones against William E. Smith, for abandoning his Homestead Entry No. 1584 dated April 28, 1883 upon the 4th of May, 4 sec. 4, 4
m. sec. 5, and 6, sec. 8, Township 46, Range 10, Crow Wing county, Minn., with a view to the cancellation of said entry, the said parties are hereby summoned to appear at this office on the 15th day of November, 1884, at 10 o'clock A. M., to respond and furnish testimony concerning said abandoned homestead.

D. H. FREEMAN, Register.
W. B. MITCHELL, Receiver.

LOSEY & Harris

DEALERS IN PICTURE MOULDINGS, Upholstering Material
—AND—
PERFORATED CHAIR SEATS.

Bring your PICTURE and have them FRAMED to order and
at BOTTOM PRICES.

NOW is the time to get LOUNGES,
EASY CHAIRS, and SOFAS, recovered while prices are DOWN.

We are agents for the finest
GRAVE MARKERS' MONU-MENTS and STATUARY known.
Call and see samples.

Basement Smith Block.

SIGNOR BRIGNOLI,

The Renowned Silver Voice Tenor.

Grand Midsummer night

Concert Company!

will give a delightful concert at BRAINERD OPERA HOUSE

Saturday Ev'g, Aug. 16,

With the following well known talent:
Miss Henriette Hawley the young talented prima donna. Signor Brignoli, tenor; W. H. Buckden, bass; Fred Will,
the brilliant violinist of the northwest, and the well known pianist, Mr. Frank Wood.

Admission 50 cents. Reserved Seats 75 cents.

Do You Know

LORILLARD'S CLIMAX

PLUG TOBACCO.

with Red Tip, Golden, and Black Brown and Yellow Suits are the best and cheapest, quality considered. Aug. 5-7.

Rogers House,

AITKIN, MINN.

G. W. NGRAHAM, Prop.

Only First-Class Hotel in Aitkin.

FINEST SAMPLE ROOM and BAR WEST OF MINNE-APOLIS.

GO TO

WADHAM'S

Shoe Store,

THE LEADING SHOE STORE IN THE CITY.

Agents for Gray Bros., Saller, Lewin & Co., Curtis & Wheeler, Hannan & Son, and Nathan D.
Dodge FINE SLIPPERS.

Wadham's Shoe Store,

SIXTH STREET.

MCFADDEN & JOHNSON

Pioneer Druggists,

—DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF—

Drugs Medicines

Druggists Sundries, etc.

We make a specialty of FINE RAZORS, TRUSSES and SHOUL-DER BRACES. A full line of FISHING TACKLE kept in stock this season. Sweet Home Washing Compound for sale by us.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully compounded day or night.

Front St., between 5th & 6th Sts., Brainerd.

H. S. TONN,

DEALER IN

Fine Boots, Shoes and Slippers

SLEEPER BLOCK, FRONT STREET.

Emma E. French,

DEALER IN

Confections

AND

LUNCHESES,

Tobaccos, Cigars, Etc.

Fifth Street,

Opposite the Leland House and south of Laurel Street.

This place is NEW, CLEAN NEAT, ORDERLY and FIRST class in all respects.

Give us a trial and be convinced.

E. R. FRENCH Agent.

FRANK H. ELVIDGE

Dealer in

COAL and WOOD,

Between Eighth and Ninth Sts., EAST OF FREIGHT OFFICE.

Branch Offices: Brainerd, and at C. A. Loomis' Grocery Store, East Telephone Connections

HARNESS SHOP

CORNER LAUREL AND SIXTH STREETS.

Keep on hand an assortment of everything in the line.

Harness, Nets, Whips, Curbs

BRUSHES, BRIDLES, SADDLES, COLLARS.

D. W. WHITFORD.

New Restaurant

Fifth Street, Brainerd.

The undersigned would announce to the public that she has recently opened her restaurant on Fifth street next door to Peter Ort's saloon on Fifth street, where she will be pleased to see all her old customers and many new ones.

Open Day and Night.

Meals at all Hours!

Choice Butter and Eggs for Sale.

Home made Bread, Pies, Cake Etc.,

always in Stock.

Mrs. C. H. Closterman.

BRainerd, MINN

Wholesale Liquors

KENTUCKY LIQUOR CO.

PURE KENTUCKY WHISKIES,

AND A FULL LINE OF LIQUORS AND WINES, IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC BELONGING TO THAT BRANCH OF BUSINESS LARGE STOCK ALWAYS ON HAND.

We Sell Also in Quantities of Half Price and Upwards.

Also Full Line of Goods For

FAMILY USES, MEDICINAL OR OTHERWISE.

Prices Low.

Orders by Mail Receive Careful and prompt Attention.

Open until 8:30 P. M., Saturdays until 9 P. M.

Laurel Street, Between Fifth and Sixth Streets,
BRAINERD, MINN.

You Will Find

A Complete Line

OF

Furniture,

OF ALL KINDS, ALSO

Curtain Shades and Fixtures

WALL PAPER, ETC.

At Our New Store On Sixth Street, South of Post Office.

C. E. SMITH & CO.

C. B. SLEEPER,

Attorney at Law

And Real Estate Agent.

MONTHLY PAYMENTS FOR CHEAP RESIDENCE LOTS IN SLEEPER'S ADDITION.

GOOD BUSINESS LOTS ON FRONT STREET.

OFFICE IN

SLEEPER BLOCK, - - - BRAINERD

IF YOU WANT TO

P A I N T.

Paper or Kalsomine Your House,

Call on BRADFORD & BENNETT, House, Sign and Carriage Painters,

LAUREL ST., between Fourth and Fifth Streets, BRAINERD, MINN

E. E. M. SMITH,

New Advertisements.

R. Parker,

DEALER IN

CONFECTIONERY,

and Fancy Groceries.

Tobacco and Cigars.

Everything Fresh. No old stock.

NO. 4, FRONT STREET, EAST.

CITY BAKERY

Fresh Bread, Pies, Cakes, Etc.

Every Day, delivered in all parts of the city.

Ornamental Cakes.

A Specialty. All orders promptly attended to.

The Celebrated Snow Bird

Flour.

For Sale at Bottom Prices.

HILLS & FAIRBANKS, Props.

Ninth Street, near Main.

Frank Currie's

Saloon & Sample Room

SIXTH STREET,

Three Doors north of Laurel, west side,

is the place to get the Cholera Liquors and Cigars

in the City.

Free Lunch every forenoon. Give us a call and be satisfied, that we keep the best place in town.

Brainerd MEAT MARKET

S. WALKER, Prop.

Fresh and Salt Meat

of all kinds.

NO. 8, EAST FRONT STREET

American Agriculturist.

100 Columns and 100 Engravings in each issue.

43d Year. $1.50 a Year.

Send two cent stamps for Sample copy.

(English or German) and premium list of the best and best Agricultural Journals in the world.

ORANGE JUDY CO., DAVID W. JUDY, Pres.

751 Broadway, New York.

CLEVELAND HENDRICKS

1004 AGENTS WANTED. 1004.

For the only genuine PICTORIAL Biographies of the DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES for President and Vice President. Authentic and exhaustive in fact, profuse and artistic in illustration, compendious, forcible, brilliant in authorship. THE STANDARD Campaign Literature. Authorized.

Rich in matter and price—25¢. The agents are in every city and town. Write for a free copy. Success and large profits ensured. A practical instruction in the art of selling.

at once. The Campaign will be short, but brilliant and profitable to agents. Address:

N. D. THOMPSON & CO., Publishers,

St. Louis, Mo., or New York City.

BRAINERD

Steam Laundry

A. T. Brooks Prop.

We are prepared to execute work promptly and guarantee satisfaction.

Charges reasonable. Work

called for and Delivered.

FAMILY WASHING A SPEC-

IALTY.

Laundry Cor. Front and 4th Streets

Professional Cards.

D. H. HIBBEL.

Rooms 3 and 4 over Post-Office.

BRAINERD MINN.

G. S. FERNALD.

(Successor to Foster & Peterson)

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

Rooms 1 and 2 Over Post Office

W. A. FLEMING.

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

Office Room 8.

SLEEPER BLOCK. BRAINERD.

R. K. WHITELY.

CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR.

Office, Room 2, Sleeper Block.

BRAINERD MINN.

C. O. PAQUIN, M. D.

Office at Corner of 7th and Front Streets.

Receives cases of 7th and 9th Streets.

Opposite Episcopal Church.

BRAINERD MINNESOTA.

Office hours 8 to 11 a. m. and 2 to 4 p. m. Tel.

connection between office and residence.

BRAINERD MINN.

M. McFadden,

Register of Deeds and Insurance Agent.

Represents none but first-class companies.

OFFICE—WITH REGISTER OF DEEDS AT

COURT HOUSE.

BRAINERD MINN.

LEON E. LUM,

ATTORNEY AT LAW, AND SOLICITOR GENERAL.

Real Estate & Specialty.

BRAINERD MINN.

Local News

"Severn, bring me a stick of gum."

The bridge signs should be taken down.

The county fair will be held at Brainer. The commissioners were in session on Tuesday.

Are you going to take in the steamboat ride Sunday?

This issue of the Dispatch is unavoidably delayed on account of non-arrival of our patrons.

You can drive your horse faster than a walk on the bridge now. The precedent has been established.

B. E. Banker has resigned from the police force. He expects to have a similar position in Minneapolis.

The Canadian editors passed through

Brainier on Tuesday on their way west over the Northern Pacific.

One hundred and thirty soldiers on their way to Fort Snelling passed through the city on Tuesday morning passenger.

Capt. Houghton will put a steamer on the river here next season, which will be a permanent thing for Brainerd.

Chas. Glass has sold his Little Lake farm to St. Cloud parties for $1,500 and will move his family to Brainerd.

"Gentlemen will please remove their hats while skating" is the new sign posted up in the rink. A very good idea.

The new sign of A. L. Hoffman, the flour and feed man on Front street has attracted considerable attention. It is neat and tasty.

The stock of goods belonging to C. Roth has been purchased by Seely & Buck, who will occupy his place of business the first of September. Mr. Roth goes to St. Paul.

Cohen Bros. of the 99 Cent Store have rented the Koop store occupied at present by Seely & Buck, and will move their stock of goods into it the first of September.

Five thousand barrels of water are pumped up from the Mississippi river to the city every day by the water works.

A good share of this is consumed by the railroad company.

Charlie White has commenced the erection of a residence on Norwood street near I. U. White's dwelling. This looks like a little as though Charlie's recent visits below had been fruitful.

The hand surprised and serenaded the citizens Wednesday from the cupola of the Villard. This makes a fine place for the hand and the whole town gets the benefit of their fine music.

There is a sign at each end of the bridge which reads: "Ten dollars fine for riding or driving on this bridge faster than a walk." They don't mean any thing though, they were put up for the fun of the thing.

The legislative body is beginning to buzz quite lively in this immediate locality.

Whether the fact that is offering grand positions on prospective railroads and public works to political manipulators will gain their point remains to be seen.

Dick McCarthy says the next time he wants to go to Deerwood on an excursion

he is going to have the extras purchased and be at the depot a day ahead. Mac was unable to catch the train although he ran fully four blocks at a speed which would beat Jay Eye See's best time.

Ed Gray's Gem Sample Room on 6th street was burglarized on Sunday night to the extent of $500 in cash and 500 grams. The thieves gained access to the building by the back door and succeeded in getting away with the articles without attracting the attention of the police.

We hear the question asked "Why does not the Cleveland and Hendricks club materialize, and the Globe correspondent who by the way is well qualified to talk to a mule, get that much promised bray of his? It is asserted that Relf is in great 'travail,' and his Democratic gripings will defunct him sure, if relief is not soon extended.

The Tribune made a very rash assertion last week by announcing that it is a news paper. The public will rest easier now that it has been puzzling all along what it was. What puzzles the public now is to find out who had the extreme gall to thus inform the management.

A Montana steer broke out of a car that was standing on the track on Wednesday morning and started on a run for the woods, and up to the present time no trace of it has been found. It stands the railroad company in hand to watch their Montana cattle for it is next thing to impossible to catch one if it once gets away.

J. B. Logan, who has carried on the merchant tailoring business on Sixth street has sold out to Mr. Whitford, one of his employees, who will continue the same. Mr. Logan goes to attend his large farm in Dakota. He has many warm friends here who will testify that he was as much of a friend of the "white man" as a certain newspaper of this city.

The lucky number that drew the life sized portrait at McColl's gallery was 70, and was held by Miss Rittie Withrow of East Brainerd. The portrait will be worth $65 when completed. McColl will immediately issue tickets for a second drawing which will be carried out on the same plan as the former, there being two prizes, a full size and a half size portrait.

On Tuesday night burglars entered the coal and wood office of F. A. B. King &

Co., situated below the freight house between 5th and 9th streets. They battered the outside door of the safe until they broke it from the hinges and removed it.

The inside door was tampered with, but they were evidently scared away before they finished their job, as it was not opened but was sprung in such shape that it could not be opened even with the

key. Had they succeeded in getting into the safe they would have had their iron trouble for nothing as no cash or any consequence is ever left over night there, the safe being a small one and used only for a protection for the books of the firm in case of fire. The tools they used were crow bars and pick axes.

The picnic to Deerwood on Tuesday

by the Congregational Sunday School was a success in all its features. The day was all that could have wished,

the participants were in good humor and the number, 150, was enough to dispel any fear of getting lonesome that might have been felt. The excursion left at 8 o'clock Sunday morning and will return at 12 o'clock. The coaches being out off at Deerwood, and were brought back by the four o'clock freight. The day was enjoyed hugely by the children and even the older portion of the pleasure party seemed to be deriving a certain amount of amusement from the picnic. Deerwood is a fine place for picnics and in time to come will undoubtedly be a resort of considerable note.

Lawyer Fernald has been carrying his arm in a sling this week from the effects of rheumatism.

Dr. C. A. Hughes returned to Duluth

this afternoon from the west. He will remain in the city for a couple of weeks

to care the afflicted. The doctor is accompanied by his wife who is also a physician.—Duluth Herald.

This is the same M. D. that received rough handling by the board of physicians of Brainerd a few months ago, and whose diploma was revoked by the state board for certain reasons. The doctor spent one night in the county jail here.

Mrs. O'Neil administratrix of the estate of the late Jack O'Neil has been removed by the court from that position.

P. Merz being appointed in her place.

The cause was an account of crooked business being done in the shape of ten barrels of prime goods being shipped to Wisconsin by Mrs. O'Neil in her maiden name and which belonged to the estate.

The goods have been recalled and the matter will be fixed up the first of the week.

An N. P. freight brakeman named

Barney Smith was arrested on Wednes-

New Advertisements.

R. Parker,
DEALER IN

CONFECTIONERY,
and Fancy Groceries.

Tobacco and Cigars.
Everything Fresh. No old stock.

NO. 6, FRONT STREET, EAST.

CITY BAKERY

Fresh Bread, Pies,
Cake, Etc.

Ornamental Cakes.

A Specialty. All orders promptly attended to.

The Celebrated Snow Bird

Flour,

For Sale at Bottom Prices.

HILLS & FAIRBANKS, Props.

Ninth Street, near Main.

Frank Currie's

Saloon & Sample Room

SIXTH STREET,

Three Doors north of Laurel, west side,

is the place to get the

Chico Liquors and Cigars

in the City.

Free Lunch every forenoon. Give us a call and be satisfied, that we keep

the best place in town.

Brainerd

MEAT MARKET

S. WALKER, Prop.

Fresh and Salt Meat

of all kinds.

NO. 8, EAST FRONT STREET

American Agriculturist,

100 Columns and 100 Engravings in each issue.

43d Year. $1.50 a Year.

Send three cent stamps for Sample copy.

(English or German) and premium list of the

collect and best Agricultural Journal in the world.

ORANGE JUDG CO., DAVID W. JUDG, Pres.

751, Broadway, New York.

CLEVELAND HENDRICKS

1894 AGENTS WANTED, 1894.

For the only genuine FICTITIAL Biographies of the Distinguished Characters for President and Vice President. Authentic and exhaustive in fact, profound and artistic in illustration, containable, readable, brilliant in authorship. The Standard Campaign History. "ATTORNEY General" is the best money ever spent for reading. Send 50 cents for outfit and our special literary instructions in the best money ever spent for reading. The Campaign will be about, but brilliant and profitable to agents. Address,

N. D. THOMPSON & Co., Publishers,

St. Louis, Mo., or New York City.

BRAINERD

Steam Laundry

A. T. Brooks Prop.

We are prepared to execute work

promptly and guarantee satisfaction.

Charges reasonable. Work

called for and Delivered.

FAMILY WASHING A SPEC-

IALTY.

Laundry Cor. Front and 4th Streets

Professional Cards.

DR. H. RIBBEL,

DENTIST.

3 Rooms 3 and 4 over Post-Office.

BRAINERD, MINN.

G. S. FERNALD,

(Successor to Foster & Fernald.)

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

Rooms 1 and 2 Over Post Office

W. A. FLEMING, ATTORNEY AT LAW.

OFFICE ROOM 8.

SLEEPER BLOCK, - BRAINERD.

R. K. WHITLEY,

CIVIL ENGINEER AND SURVEYOR.

Office, Room 2, Sleeper Block,

BRAINERD, MINN.

G. O. PAQUIN, M. D.

Office at Corner of 7th and Front Streets. Residence opposite Episcopal Church.

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA.

Office hours 9 to 11 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m. Tel.

connection between office and residence.

M. McFadden,

Register of Deeds and Insurance Agent.

Represents none but first-class companies.

OFFICE WITH REGISTER OF DEEDS AT

COURT HOUSE.

BRAINERD, MINN.

L. RON E. LUM,

ATTORNEY AT LAW, AND NOTARY PUBLIC.

Head Office at Specialty.

BRAINERD, MINN.

Local News

"Severn, bring me a stick of gum."

The bridge signs should be taken down.

The county fair will be held at Brainerd.

The commissioners were in session on Tuesday.

Are you going to take in the steam-

boat ride Sunday?

This issue of the Dispatch is unavoid-

ably delayed on account of non-arrival

of our patrons.

You can drive your horse faster than a

walk on the bridge now. The precedent

has been established.

B. E. Barker has resigned from the police force. He expects to have a similar position in Minneapolis.

The Canadian editors passed through

Brainerd on Tuesday on their way west

over the Northern Pacific.

One hundred and thirty soldiers on

their way to Fort Snelling passed through

the city on Tuesday morning passenger.

Capt. Houghton will put a steamer on

the river here next season, which will be

a permanent thing for Brainerd.

Chas. Glass has sold his Little Lacs farm to St. Cloud parties for $1,500 and will move his family to Brainerd.

"Gentlemen will please remove their hats while skating." is a new sign posted up in the rink. A very good idea.

The new sign of A. L. Hoffman, the flower and man on Front street has attracted considerable attention. It is neat and tasty.

The stock of goods belonging to C. Roth

has been purchased by Seely & Buck, who

will occupy his place of business the first

of September. Mr. Roth goes to St. Paul.

Cohen Bros. of the 9th Cent Store have rented the Koop store occupied at present by Seely & Buck, and will move their stock of goods into it the first of September.

Five thousand barrels of water are

pumped up from the Mississippi river to

the city every day by the water works.

A good share of this is consumed by the railroad company.

Charlie White has commenced the

erection of a residence on Norwood street

near I. U. White's dwelling. This looks like a sure thing Charlie's recent visits below had been fruitful.

The band surprised and serenaded the

citizens Wednesday from the cupola of

the Villard. This makes a fine place for the band and the whole town gets the benefit of their fine music.

There is a sign at each end of the

bridge which reads: "Ten dollars fine

for riding or driving on this bridge faster than a walk." They don't mean any thing though, they were put up for the fun of the thing.

The legislature has begun to buzz

quite lively in this immediate locality.

Whether the fact that is offering grand positions on prospective railroads will public works to political manipulators will gain work to political remains to be seen.

Dick McCarthy says the next time he

wants to go to Deerwood on an excursion

he is going to have the extras purchased

and be at the depot a day ahead. Mac

was unable to catch the train although he ran fully two blocks at a speed which would beat Jay Eye's best time.

Ed Gray's Eye Sample Room on 6th

street was burglarized on Sunday night

to the extent of $9.00 in cash and 500

cigars. The thieves gained access to the building by the back door and succeeded

in getting away with the articles without

attracting the attention of the police.

We hear the question asked "Why does not the Cleveland and Globe correspondent by the way is well qualified to talk to a mule, get off that much promised pair of his? It is asserted that he is in great 'travail,' and his Democratic gripings will deflect him sure, if relief is not soon extended.

The Tribune made a very rash assertion last week by announcing that it is a news paper. The public will rest easier

now. They have been wondering all along what it was. What puzzles the

public now is to find out who had the

extreme gall to thus inform the management.

A Montana steer broke out of a car

that was standing on the track on Wednesday morning and started on a run

for the woods, and up to the present

time no trace of it has been found. It stands the railroad company in hand to watch their Montana cattle for it next thing to impossible to catch one if it

once gets away.

J. B. Logan, who has carried on the

merchant tailoring business on Sixth street has sold out to Mr. Waldorf, one of his employees, who will continue the

same. Mr. Logan goes to attend his

large farm in Dakota. He has many

warm friends here who will testify that

he was as much of a friend of the "white

man" as a certain newspaper of this city.

The lucky number that drew the life

sized portrait at McColl's gallery was 70, and was held by Miss Lettie Withrow of

East Brainerd. The portrait will be

worth $65 when completed. McColl will

immediately issue tickets for a second

drawing which will be carried out on

the same plan as the former, there being

two prizes, a full size and a half size portrait.

On Tuesday night burglars entered the

coal and wood office of F. A. B. King &

Co., situated below the freight house between 6th and 9th streets. They battered the outside door of the safe until they broke it from the hinges and removed it.

The inside door was tampered with, but

they were evidently scared away before

they finished their job, as it was not

opened but was sprung in such shape that

it could not be opened, even with the

key. Had they succeeded in getting into the safe they would have had their trouble for nothing as no cash or any consequence is ever left over night there, the

safe being a small one and used only for

a protection for the books of the firm

in case of fire. The tools they used were

crow bars and pick axes.

The picnic to Deerwood on Tuesday

by the Congregational Sunnyside School was a success in all its features. The day was all that could have been wished,

the participants were in good humor and the number, 150, was enough to dispe-laid of a gathering of some kind. The excursion left the depot at 7:30 attached to the Duluth passenger, the coaches being cut off at

Deerwood, and were brought back by the

four o'clock freight. The day was enjoyed largely by the children and even

the older portion of the pleasure party

seemed to be deriving a certain amount of amusement from the trip. Deerwood

is a fine place for picnics and in time

to come will undoubtedly be a resort of

considerable note.

Lawyer Fernald has been carrying his

arm in a sling this week from the effects of rheumatism.

Dr. C. A. Hughes returned to Duluth

this afternoon from the west. He will remain in the city for a couple of weeks

to care the afflicted. The doctor is accompanied by his wife who is also a phy-

ON THE FLYING TRAPEZE.

BY MRS. M. P. HANDY.

Signor Francesco—the World-Renowned Gymnast—as the posters had
it, in letters two feet long, was one of the chief attractions of the Grecian Gardens, and his daring performances up-
on cross-bar and trapeze nightly drew
a crowd to the popular place of amusement. As to the "world-wide renown," that was an advertising license; in point
of fact, he had never been beyond the limits of the United States for his fine
and only laurels in the gymnastic line
had been won upon the stage of the Grecian Gardens.

To tell the carefully-concealed truth,
Signor Francesco led a dual existence.
For one hour every evening, Sundays
excepted, he was the hero of the ring,
—the idol of the gallery,—the rest of the time he was Frank Beverly, reporter on the Evening Message.

The reason of the dual life was not far to seek. Poverty as a common form of misery, makes a man acquainted with strange bedfellows. His family were Virginians, dwelling on the Rappahannock River, and for four years the tide
of battle surged back and forth over
their home. When at last the bloody
contest was ended, and they returned after three years of exile as refugees,
scarcely anything was left save the land,
and the very face of that was altered, piled into redoubts and sealed with cannon, which gaped like raw wounds
on its surface.

Not a tree remained of all their stately forests; the house had been burned to the ground, and the family of the
overseer, who had elected to stay at
home when his employers fled, was left
standing. In this they took up their
abode, and went to work to piece their ruined fortunes as best they might.

Slowly the fertile soil repaid their labors; vineyards and orchards grew to replace those which had vanished; a comfortable, though far less pretentious
house rose on the site of the old home,
and the wounds of the war were out-
wardly healed.

Still, money was scarce, and when Frank, the young reporter, began his reporting, was old enough to go to college, the plantation was mortgaged to supply the necessary funds. The traditions of the family must be observed at all costs.

Coming home with his dearly-bought
diploma, Frank had no thought but to open the world's oyster as speedily as possible. Cautious as to the thing done at which to expect that oblation bivalve, he betrothed him of a cousin of his mother's, who, emigrating to the West before the war, and taking the rich side of the struggle, was now the prosperous editor of a Northern journal. To him Frank wrote, asking for a position, receiving in reply permission to begin at the bottom and work
his way up, if he could.

Climbing was, however, by no means so rapid as he had supposed it would be. Econoimize as he might, it was not possible to save much on a salary of ten dollars a week, and months passed without hope of increase. He did his work fairly well, but he was no genius,
and his university degree, much to his surprise, counted for nothing.

Thus matters stood, one evening he went with his fellow-journalists to see the performance at the Grecian Gardens. Herr Krawisky, or some other of the foreign contingent, who was
the star performer, and his efforts were greeted with great applause, in which Frank's companions joined.

"Why don't you clap?" they asked
him at length.

"I don't think he is doing anything remarkable," he replied. "Do you?"

"Come, now, don't put on. Why he is one of the best gymnasts in the country!"

"Is he? Well, I mean what I say.
I don't see that he is doing anything wonderful. I believe I could do almost everything we have seen him do tonight."

"Tell that to the marines," said Will Harris of the Hue and Cry, and "Bet you are dollars and cents better than George Wharton of The Daily Globe."

Frank flushed angrily. "I mean just what I say," he repeated doggedly.

"You may believe me or not, just as you choose," I was answered by one of the best gymnasts at college, and we had some pretty good ones, too."

"Well, you needn't get up on your arrogance, if you can't, you can't show me what you can do, if you like," said Will Harris, good-humoredly. "Leggett will let us have the use of the stage after the performance is over."

Shortly after the performance, the last time that evening, the party adjourned
to the green-room, where Harris laid
the case before the proprietor of "The Gardens," who readily acceded to the prayer which he made.

Although somewhat out of practice,
Frank was on his mettle, and went through the trial triumphantly, to the delight of his companions, and the delight of Mr. Leggett, who shook hands with him enthusiastically, and offered him an engagement on the spot.

"Thank you," Frank replied; a little stiffly, though, "I was anxious to get my complement was intended. "I am not a professional."

"But you ought to be," said Leggett,
"and you ought to go into the gymnastic line completely."

"Thank you, but I don't think that at all likely," the young man replied with dignity.

Shortly after this, Herr Krawisky
met with an accident, which, as the
newspapers put it, "necessitated his
temporary withdrawal from the stage," and Mr. Leggett, remembering Frank's skill, sent him an offer through Harris,
of the vacant situation, with a salary
of fifty dollars a week.

"I wouldn't do it for a hundred!"
was the indignant answer, duly repeated to Leggett.

Gymnasts were at a premium just
then, and it was difficult to secure a
star performer. "Very well, then," said Mr. Leggett, "Tell him I will make it splendid and pay."

When this offer reached him, Frank
was shaken. A hundred and ten dollars a week! It seemed like a fortune to him. Given that for six months he

VOLUME III.

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 8, 1884.

NUMBER 34.

ROMANCE.

From the Spanish of Gustavo Becquer.

Before thou diest I shall die,
For in my heart I bear,
Bleeding to death, the cruel steel
Thy hand hath planted there.Before thou diest I shall die,
For in my heart I bear,
Bleeding to death, the cruel steel
Thy hand hath planted there.For thou art the cause of death, My soul will wait for thee.Day after day, year after year,
I will live for thee,
And at that portal thou shalt knock
When all shall be at last.Then, when the earth is lying soft
On thine—thy lips and eyes
When plunged in death's baptismal stream
I will be pure, thou shalt be there.There, where the tumult of mankind
Is heard between no more,
Gone, like the wind that raised the wave,
The spirit was at rest.There, where to live is not to die,
To live is not to fear—
We shall love all, and shall speak
All that we spoke not here.

—Richard Henry Stoddard, in The Manhattan

ON THE FLYING TRAPEZE.

BY MRS. M. P. HANDY.

Signor Francesco—the World-Renowned Gymnast—as the posters had
it, in letters two feet long, was one of the chief attractions of the Grecian Gardens, and his daring performances up-
on cross-bar and trapeze nightly drew
a crowd to the popular place of amusement. As to the "world-wide renown,"
that was an advertising license; in point
of fact, he had never been beyond the limits of the United States for his fine
and only laurels in the gymnastic line
had been won upon the stage of the Grecian Gardens.

To tell the carefully-concealed truth,
Signor Francesco led a dual existence.
For one hour every evening, Sundays
excepted, he was the hero of the ring,
—the idol of the gallery,—the rest of
the time he was Frank Beverly, reporter
on the Evening Message.

The reason of the dual life was not far
to seek. Poverty as a common form of
misery, makes a man acquainted with
strange bedfellows. His family were Virginians, dwelling on the Rappahannock River, and for four years the tide
of battle surged back and forth over
their home. When at last the bloody
contest was ended, and they returned
after three years of exile as refugees,
scarcely anything was left save the land,
and the very face of that was altered,
piled into redoubts and sealed with
cannon, which gaped like raw wounds
on its surface.

Not a tree remained of all their stately forests; the house had been burned
to the ground, and the family of the
overseer, who had elected to stay at
home when his employers fled, was left
standing. In this they took up their
abode, and went to work to piece their
ruined fortunes as best they might.

Slowly the fertile soil repaid their labors; vineyards and orchards grew to
replace those which had vanished; a comfortable, though far less pretentious
house rose on the site of the old home,
and the wounds of the war were out-
wardly healed.

Still, money was scarce, and when
Frank, the young reporter, began his
reporting, was old enough to go to college, the plantation was mortgaged to supply the necessary funds. The traditions of the family must be observed
at all costs.

Coming home with his dearly-bought
diploma, Frank had no thought but to open the world's oyster as speedily as possible. Cautious as to the thing
done at which to expect that oblation
bivalve, he betrothed him of a cousin
of his mother's, who, emigrating to the West before the war, and taking the
rich side of the struggle, was now the
prosperous editor of a Northern journal. To him Frank wrote, asking for a position, receiving in reply permission to begin at the bottom and work
his way up, if he could.

Climbing was, however, by no means
so rapid as he had supposed it would
be. Econoimize as he might, it was not possible to save much on a salary of ten dollars a week, and months passed
without hope of increase. He did his
work fairly well, but he was no genius,
and his university degree, much to his
surprise, counted for nothing.

Thus matters stood, one evening he
went with his fellow-journalists to
see the performance at the Grecian Gardens. Herr Krawisky, or some other
of the foreign contingent, who was
the star performer, and his efforts
were greeted with great applause, in which Frank's companions joined.

"Why don't you clap?" they asked
him at length.

"I don't think he is doing anything remarkable," he replied. "Do you?"

"Come, now, don't put on. Why he is one of the best gymnasts in the country!"

"Is he? Well, I mean what I say.
I don't see that he is doing anything wonderful. I believe I could do almost everything we have seen him do tonight."

"Tell that to the marines," said Will Harris of the Hue and Cry, and "Bet
you are dollars and cents better than
George Wharton of The Daily Globe."

Frank flushed angrily. "I mean just
what I say," he repeated doggedly.

"You may believe me or not, just as you choose," I was answered by one of
the best gymnasts at college, and we had
some pretty good ones, too."

"Well, you needn't get up on your
arrogance, if you can't, you can't show
me what you can do, if you like," said Will Harris, good-humoredly. "Leggett will let us have the use of the stage
after the performance is over."

Shortly after the performance, the last
time that evening, the party adjourned
to the green-room, where Harris laid
the case before the proprietor of "The Gardens," who readily acceded to the
prayer which he made.

Although somewhat out of practice,
Frank was on his mettle, and went through the trial triumphantly, to the
delight of his companions, and the
delight of Mr. Leggett, who shook hands
with him enthusiastically, and offered
him an engagement on the spot.

"Thank you," Frank replied; a little
stiffly, though, "I was anxious to get
my complement was intended. "I am not
a professional."

"But you ought to be," said Leggett,
"and you ought to go into the
gymnastic line completely."

"Thank you, but I don't think that
at all likely," the young man replied with dignity.

Shortly after this, Herr Krawisky
met with an accident, which, as the
newspapers put it, "necessitated his
temporary withdrawal from the stage,"
and Mr. Leggett, remembering Frank's
skill, sent him an offer through Harris,
of the vacant situation, with a salary
of fifty dollars a week.

"I wouldn't do it for a hundred!"
was the indignant answer, duly repeated
to Leggett.

Gymnasts were at a premium just
then, and it was difficult to secure a
star performer. "Very well, then,"
said Mr. Leggett, "Tell him I will make it splendid and pay."

When this offer reached him, Frank
was shaken. A hundred and ten dollars
a week! It seemed like a fortune
to him. Given that for six months he

VOLUME III.

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 8, 1884.

NUMBER 34.

ROMANCE.

From the Spanish of Gustavo Becquer.

Before thou diest I shall die,
For in my heart I bear,
Bleeding to death, the cruel steel
Thy hand hath planted there.Before thou diest I shall die,
For in my heart I bear,
Bleeding to death, the cruel steel
Thy hand hath planted there.For thou art the cause of death, My soul will wait for thee.Day after day, year after year,
I will live for thee,
And at that portal thou shalt knock
When all shall be at last.Then, when the earth is lying soft
On thine—thy lips and eyes
When plunged in death's baptismal stream
I will be pure, thou shalt be there.There, where the tumult of mankind
Is heard between no more,
Gone, like the wind that raised the wave,
The spirit was at rest.There, where to live is not to die,
To live is not to fear—
We shall love all, and shall speak
All that we spoke not here.

—Richard Henry Stoddard, in The Manhattan

ON THE FLYING TRAPEZE.

BY MRS. M. P. HANDY.

Signor Francesco—the World-Renowned Gymnast—as the posters had
it, in letters two feet long, was one of the chief attractions of the Grecian Gardens, and his daring performances up-
on cross-bar and trapeze nightly drew
a crowd to the popular place of amusement. As to the "world-wide renown,"
that was an advertising license; in point
of fact, he had never been beyond the limits of the United States for his fine
and only laurels in the gymnastic line
had been won upon the stage of the Grecian Gardens.

To tell the carefully-concealed truth,
Signor Francesco led a dual existence.
For one hour every evening, Sundays
excepted, he was the hero of the ring,
—the idol of the gallery,—the rest of
the time he was Frank Beverly, reporter
on the Evening Message.

The reason of the dual life was not far
to seek. Poverty as a common form of
misery, makes a man acquainted with
strange bedfellows. His family were Virginians, dwelling on the Rappahannock River, and for four years the tide
of battle surged back and forth over
their home. When at last the bloody
contest was ended, and they returned
after three years of exile as refugees,
scarcely anything was left save the land,
and the very face of that was altered,
piled into redoubts and sealed with
cannon, which gaped like raw wounds
on its surface.

Not a tree remained of all their stately forests; the house had been burned
to the ground, and the family of the
overseer, who had elected to stay at
home when his employers fled, was left
standing. In this they took up their
abode, and went to work to piece their
ruined fortunes as best they might.

Slowly the fertile soil repaid their labors; vineyards and orchards grew to
replace those which had vanished; a comfortable, though far less pretentious
house rose on the site of the old home,
and the wounds of the war were out-
wardly healed.

Still, money was scarce, and when
Frank, the young reporter, began his
reporting, was old enough to go to college, the plantation was mortgaged to supply the necessary funds. The traditions of the family must be observed
at all costs.

Coming home with his dearly-bought
diploma, Frank had no thought but to open the world's oyster as speedily as possible. Cautious as to the thing
done at which to expect that oblation
bivalve, he betrothed him of a cousin
of his mother's, who, emigrating to the West before the war, and taking the
rich side of the struggle, was now the
prosperous editor of a Northern journal. To him Frank wrote, asking for a position, receiving in reply permission to begin at the bottom and work
his way up, if he could.

Climbing was, however, by no means
so rapid as he had supposed it would
be. Econoimize as he might, it was not possible to save much on a salary of ten dollars a week, and months passed
without hope of increase. He did his
work fairly well, but he was no genius,
and his university degree, much to his
surprise, counted for nothing.

Thus matters stood, one evening he
went with his fellow-journalists to
see the performance at the Grecian Gardens. Herr Krawisky, or some other
of the foreign contingent, who was
the star performer, and his efforts
were greeted with great applause, in which Frank's companions joined.

"Why don't you clap?" they asked
him at length.

"I don't think he is doing anything remarkable," he replied. "Do you?"

"Come, now, don't put on. Why he is one of the best gymnasts in the country!"

"Is he? Well, I mean what I say.
I don't see that he is doing anything wonderful. I believe I could do almost everything we have seen him do tonight."

"Tell that to the marines," said Will Harris of the Hue and Cry, and "Bet
you are dollars and cents better than
George Wharton of The Daily Globe."

Frank flushed angrily. "I mean just
what I say," he repeated doggedly.

"You may believe me or not, just as you choose," I was answered by one of
the best gymnasts at college, and we had
some pretty good ones, too."

"Well, you needn't get up on your
arrogance, if you can't, you can't show
me what you can do, if you like," said Will Harris, good-humoredly. "Leggett will let us have the use of the stage
after the performance is over."

Shortly after the performance, the last
time that evening, the party adjourned
to the green-room, where Harris laid
the case before the proprietor of "The Gardens," who readily acceded to the
prayer which he made.

Although somewhat out of practice,
Frank was on his mettle, and went through the trial triumphantly, to the
delight of his companions, and the
delight of Mr. Leggett, who shook hands
with him enthusiastically, and offered
him an engagement on the spot.

"Thank you," Frank replied; a little
stiffly, though, "I was anxious to get
my complement was intended. "I am not
a professional."

"But you ought to be," said Leggett,
"and you ought to go into the
gymnastic line completely."

"Thank you, but I don't think that
at all likely," the young man replied with dignity.

Shortly after this, Herr Krawisky
met with an accident, which, as the
newspapers put it, "necessitated his
temporary withdrawal from the stage,"
and Mr. Leggett, remembering Frank's
skill, sent him an offer through Harris,
of the vacant situation, with a salary
of fifty dollars a week.

"I wouldn't do it for a hundred!"
was the indignant answer, duly repeated
to Leggett.

Gymnasts were at a premium just
then, and it was difficult to secure a
star performer. "Very well, then,"
said Mr. Leggett, "Tell him I will make it splendid and pay."

When this offer reached him, Frank
was shaken. A hundred and ten dollars
a week! It seemed like a fortune
to him. Given that for six months he

VOLUME III.

BRAINERD, MINNESOTA, FRIDAY, AUGUST 8, 1884.

NUMBER 34.

ROMANCE.

From the Spanish of Gustavo Becquer.

Before thou diest I shall die,
For in my heart I bear,
Bleeding to death, the cruel steel
Thy hand hath planted there.Before thou diest I shall die,
For in my heart I bear,
Bleeding to death, the cruel steel
Thy hand hath planted there.For thou art the cause of death, My soul will wait for thee.Day after day, year after year,
I will live for thee,
And at that portal thou shalt knock
When all shall be at last.Then, when the earth is lying soft
On thine—thy lips and eyes
When plunged in death's baptismal stream
I will be pure, thou shalt be there.There, where the tumult of mankind
Is heard between no more,
Gone, like the wind that raised the wave,
The spirit was at rest.There, where to live is not to die,
To live is not to fear—
We shall love all, and shall speak
All that we spoke not here.

—Richard Henry Stoddard, in The Manhattan

ON THE FLYING TRAPEZE.

BY MRS. M. P. HANDY.

Signor Francesco—the World-Renowned Gymnast—as the posters had
it, in letters two feet long, was one of the chief attractions of the Grecian Gardens, and his daring performances up-
on cross-bar and trapeze nightly drew
a crowd to the popular place of amusement. As to the "world-wide renown,"
that was an advertising license; in point
of fact, he had never been beyond the limits of the United States for his fine
and only laurels in the gymnastic line
had been won upon the stage of the Grecian Gardens.

To tell the carefully-concealed truth,
Signor Francesco led a dual existence.
For one hour every evening, Sundays
excepted, he was the hero of the ring,
—the idol of the gallery,—the rest of
the time he was Frank Beverly, reporter
on the Evening Message.

The reason of the dual life was not far
to seek. Poverty as a common form of
misery, makes a man acquainted with
strange bedfellows. His family were Virginians, dwelling on the Rappahannock River, and for four years the tide
of battle surged back and forth over
their home. When at last the bloody
contest was ended, and they returned
after three years of exile as refugees,
scarcely anything was left save the land,
and the very face of that was altered,
piled into redoubts and sealed with
cannon, which gaped like raw wounds
on its surface.

Not a tree remained of all their stately forests; the house had been burned
to the ground, and the family of the
overseer, who had elected to stay at
home when his employers fled, was left
standing. In this they took up their
abode, and went to work to piece their
ruined fortunes as best they might.

Slowly the fertile soil repaid their labors; vineyards and orchards grew to
replace those which had vanished; a comfortable, though far less pretentious
house rose on the site of the old home,
and the wounds of the war were out-
wardly healed.

Still, money was scarce, and when
Frank, the young reporter, began his
reporting, was old enough to go to college, the plantation was mortgaged to supply the necessary funds. The traditions of the family must be observed
at all costs.

Coming home with his dearly-bought
diploma, Frank had no thought but to open the world's oyster as speedily as possible. Cautious as to the thing
done at which to expect that oblation
bivalve, he betrothed him of a cousin
of his mother's, who, emigrating to the West before the war, and taking the
rich side of the struggle, was now the
prosperous editor of a Northern journal. To him Frank wrote, asking for a position, receiving in reply permission to begin at the bottom and work
his way up, if he could.

Climbing was, however, by no means
so rapid as he had supposed it would
be. Econoimize as he might, it was not possible to save much on a salary of ten dollars a week, and months passed without hope of increase. He did his
work fairly well, but he was no genius,
and his university degree, much to his surprise, counted for nothing.

Thus matters stood, one evening he
went with his fellow-journalists to
see the performance at the Grecian Gardens. Herr Krawisky, or some other
of the foreign contingent, who was
the star performer, and his efforts
were greeted with great applause, in which Frank's companions joined.

"Why don't you clap?" they asked
him at length.

"I don't think he is doing anything remarkable," he replied. "Do you?"

"Come, now, don't put on. Why he is one of the best gymnasts in the country!"

"Is he? Well, I mean what I say.
I don't see that he is doing anything wonderful. I believe I could do almost everything we have seen him do tonight."

"Tell that to the marines," said Will Harris of the Hue and Cry, and "Bet
you are dollars and cents better than George Wharton of The Daily Globe."

Frank flushed angrily. "I mean just
what I say," he repeated doggedly.

"You may believe me or not, just as you choose," I was answered by one of
the best gymnasts at college, and we had
some pretty good ones, too."

"Well, you needn't get up on your
arrogance, if you can't, you can't show
me what you can do, if you like," said Will Harris, good-humoredly. "Leggett will let us have the use of the stage
after the performance is over."

Shortly after the performance, the last time that evening, the party adjourned
to the green-room, where Harris laid
the case before the proprietor of "The Gardens," who readily acceded to the
prayer which he made.

Although somewhat out of practice,
Frank was on his mettle, and went through the trial triumphantly, to the
delight of his companions, and the
delight of Mr. Leggett, who shook hands with him enthusiastically, and offered him an engagement on the spot

Brainerd Dispatch

Issued every Thursday morning
at Brainerd, Minn. Terms $1.50 per year, in ADVANCE.

N. H. Ingersoll, Editor and Proprietor.
F. W. Wisland, Editor.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF CROW WING, CASS, AND ST. LOUIS COUNTIES, and the City of Brainerd.

POPULATION OF BRAINERD 10,000.

Entered at the Post Office at Brainerd, Minn.,
as second-class matter.

Alaska is soon to have her first
paper.

The Cincinnati riot cost the
county $77,984.

During July 25, 167 immigrants
landed in New York.

Lookout Mountain has been purchased by a railroad company and
the historic spot will be converted into a summer resort.

President Harris has completed
his tour of inspection over the Northern Pacific railroad. Reporters, thirsting for information, found him exceedingly uncommunicative concerning matters of interest affecting the road, and the
public will probably have to wait awhile ere its curiosity is satisfied.

Judge Hays of the Seventh judicial district at Iowa, holds that justices of the peace have no jurisdiction in cases under the new liquor law other than to hold preliminary examinations and bind defendants over for trial in the district court. The decision is of importance in so far as it determines
the proper court in which the prosecutions should be brought.

At Narragansett park Friday
the Wisconsin trotting wonder,
Jay-Eye-See, again lowered the
record, doing a mile in 2:10. His previous record was 2:10.4 and that of "Maud S." 2:10.1, but now the famous little mare must acknowledge
the weakness of her sex. Perhaps,
however, Friday's performance
will rouse Mr. Vanderbilt's jealousy for his favorite's reputation,
and we may see the record drop another notch.

The sixtieth annual session of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows
will be held in the city of Minneapolis, Minnesota, beginning on Monday the 15th day of September next. It has always been considered a high compliment paid to the city selected for the meeting of this ancient body, and as Minneapolis is a point further west than
has ever before been chosen, except once, when San Francisco, California, was the place, the favored Odd Fellows and citizens generally
of young and enterprising Minneapolis will vie each other in their efforts to give the members of the Sovereign Grand Lodge a generous
royal reception.

Father Stephen director of the Catholic Indian bureau, has just returned from a visit to the Indian reservation at Devil's lake. He
found the Indians all engaged in working the small farms of from ten to forty acres each. They have a splendid wheat crop, beside barley
and other cereals, and are happy,
industrious and contented. Maj Cramsie, the agent is a live, energetic manager, and makes the Indians work, so that they are now
self sustaining, and only receive
government rations when they are sick. Father Stephens expresses himself as highly pleased with his trip.

Senator Sabin's Views.

"Blaine's chances are excellent
and have improved steadily since
the nomination," said Senator D.
M. Sabin at the Continental hotel
Thursday to a Philadelphia Times
reporter. "Our state is good for 40,000 Republican majority any-
how. The tariff issue is the one
the campaign will be on, and a
most important one it is to all the
manufacturing interests of the country, especially to this section.
Blaine I have not seen since March,
but Logan I have frequently held
conversation with during the last month or so, and of this I can as-
sure you, they both have explicit confidence in their election. There
is, in my judgment, not the slightest chance of Carter Harrison being elected governor of Illinois. He has as much chance of it as Cleveland has of carrying the State of Pennsylvania. Can I express myself more strongly than that? There is a great sympathy for Blaine
manifest among the Irish population of the western States, and it seems to be growing, too. I have just returned from New York, and found Blaine's managers there enthusiastic believers in his success. While I never had any doubt
of Blaine's carrying the state I
was not prepared to find them so
confident of a big majority, ranging anywhere from thirty-five to seventy thousand. The Independent defection I regard as a very slight
one, amounting to much less indeed than I thought it did at first.

The St. Paul Dispatch has secured,
at considerable expense and
arduous effort, the long-looked-for
letter of congratulation from Tilden
to Cleveland. We give it herewith:
To Grover Cleveland, Albany, Dear sir: Congratulations. You have Edinburgh philanthropy fraud spu-dious Oregon usafrect nules fraud acoustic. Samuel J. Tilden.

A free translation of this "cy-
pher" would read:
"You have my heartfelt sympathy.
Keep your eye on Barnum; he's a great milk. Wear a green vest and smoke a gray pipe. Marry the girl. Don't condone the 'great fraud.' Keep away from Oregon, as I believe Salt river runs
in the neighborhood. Hendricks will keep up the supply of suckasses in Indiana, I trust. Don't talk too much with your mouth."

His Po Painted.

"Ma," said the small boy as they were taking the train out of
town a few days ago, "you'll see somethin' funny when we get back."

"What will it be?" inquired the mother.

"Why, all the buildings will be different color."

"Nonsense, child what gave you
that idea?"

"Well pa told Mr. Smith last night that when you and me went away he was goin' to paint the town red," and then he wondered
why his mother wouldn't let him
stand up on the seat or buy him

A Queer Colony.

Perham Bulletin: Some time
ago there was a dissension in the Catholic church in Mercer county, Ohio, caused by the father of the
church being unwilling to submit to the rulings of the bishop, and
one Father Joseph was expelled
from the church, and at his expulsion several of his followers
also left and formed a colony and
came to Rush Lake in this county.
As farmers they were prosperous
and generous, it being one of their
creeds to always lend a helping hand to the poor, and for all their aid
furnished they never took interest, note or usury. Everything went
on harmoniously until about three months ago, when there leader, Father Joseph, died. After his
demise they were unable to procure
a father, in consequence of which
they made arrangements to leave their beautiful farms, crops and everything, and seek some far-off Western home. In accordance with these arrangements, they chartered
an emigrant steamer of the Northern Pacific road and started on their journey last Saturday morning. The car was left last Friday night, in order to give them ample
time to arrange their baggage and
lunch for the trip to Portland, Or.
The steamer was a new one and
would accommodate about fifty
persons. After their departure it was discovered that they had taken the body of Father Joseph with them.

At Villainous Mate.

Key West, Aug. 6.—Mate
Walker, of the Julia Baker, who has been personating Capt Lewis
the dead master of the vessel, was
to-day arraigned on a charge of
running away with the vessel and
disposing of the cargo. The testimony proved that the master was
sick when the vessel sailed. The
sixth day the man at the wheel said the captain fell from his chair in the cabin. He was picked up by the mate and steward and laid on
a mattress. They then administered something to him from a bottle and the master died in a few minutes. The mate immediately changed the vessel's course so as to reach the Bahamas islands.
She was originally bound for Trinidad. Arriving at fortune island the mate sold a deck load of lumber and then went to Inagua, where he sold some flour and bread.

The vessel was then taken to
an uninhabited island, where she
met a small schooner which took on board 120 barrels of flour and departed. Mate Walker going with
her. Walker returned with her in
five days having been able to sell
only twelve barrels of flour. He gave the small schooner twenty barrels for the services and she left,
the steward going with her. The Julia Baker came to this point, there the balance of her cargo of flour was offered for sale. Walker held in $2,000 for trial at the November term of court.

The first bale of New York hops
was sent to Chicago.

Mississippi's $500,000 of levee
bonds have been sold.

Long Island potatoes are $1.50
per barrel in New York.

Bees attacked a Northwestern
passenger train near Lake Forest.

Jefferson, the negro murder,
sold his body to a New York museum.

Lizzy Miner, New London Conn went crazy at a salivation meeting.

Hamilton, Ont., had a great trades
and labor demonstration yesterday.

A New York company is formed
to build a pneumatic tube to Chicago.

Dozens of Chinese stowaways
are found on incoming steamers.

The Security Savings bank of Newark N. J., was opened with prayer Saturday.

County Commissioners.
SPECIAL MEETING.

AUDITORS OFFICE, July 8, 1884.

Pursuant to call the commissioners
met. All members were present.

The following resolution was adopted:
RESOLVED, That the county treasurer
be authorized such funds as are available
for the payment of a certain order numbered 2726, for the amount of $3,500, and
interest thereon. The same to be used from Cass county funds.

The resolution was supported by commissioners Gardner and Martin and opposed by Commissioner Rosser.

On motion the meeting adjourned sine die.

Attest,
F. B. THOMPSON,
Mayor.

AUDITORS OFFICE, Aug. 5th 1884.

Pursuant to adjournment the commissioners met. All present.

The following bills were allowed:
C. O'Brien, witness fees in Justice
court..... $112
W. A. Smith & Co., goods furnished paupers..... 4 67

A. W. Foster, entering tax judgment..... 361 80

Brainerd Dispatch, printing delinquent tax list..... 160 15

J. B. Douglas, fee in state cases..... 101 45

P. Mertz, board of prisoners and jailers fees for July..... 154 60

Arthur McCormick, witness fees in
justice court..... 3 36

Society of Mercy, maintaining four
paupers 14 weeks..... 44 00

Joel Smith, Lumber for bridges..... 85 50

C. C. Crocker, cost of county bridge..... 20 00

Parsons & Camp, attending pau-
pers and medicines, amount of
bill, $24. Amount allowed..... 12 00

Andrew Lignau services as road
overseer..... 18 00

The bill of George S. Canfield for printing and stationery was laid on the table.

The following statements were made on the tax list of 1883.

Lot 22, of block 93, abated to $160 valuation.

Lot 6 of block 5, East Brainerd, abated
to $750 valuation.

Lot 2 of block 1, Miller's addition
abated to $200 valuation.

Lot 6, of block 3, Sleeper's addition,
abated to $225.

The following resolutions were adopted:
RESOLVED, That the sheriff be instructed to collect all liquor licences which have not already been paid in Cass county.

RESOLVED, That temporary aid be
given Mrs. N. F. Smith in support of
herself and five children.

Louie Wood was given notice by chairman Rosser to leave Crow Wing county before becoming a county charge.

On motion the council adjourned to Tuesday September 2.

Attest, F. B. THOMPSON,
County Auditor.

"Give no Facts!"

This is the cry of intelligent voters. A brief and pointed statement of the situation with succinct items in the lives of the candidates, and a reliable compend of political statistics, comprise about what is wanted immediately. Volumes professing to respond to this demand in
the Republican party were issued several
days ago, but those we have seen are mere catch-penny affairs, except the elegant work just issued from the press of Messrs. Jones Brothers & Co., Chicago, which is written and edited by the well-known historian, John Clark Ridpath, LL. D. It comprises extended and excellent biographies of Blaine and Logan; a summary of the Convention that nomi-ated them; full table of political statistics; a valuable history of tariff legislation
in United States; history of all political parties since the foundation of the government; tabulated facts and figures of
every Presidential election; lives and administrations of all the Presidents; and a great mass of the most desirable information, which can not be found in any other form. It is elegantly printed and bound,
and illustrated with about forty engravings, germane to the text. It answers
any question that can possibly arise
among Republican voters in the pending
campaign, and we understand it is enjoying an immense sale, as it certainly deserves.

Notice of Mortgage Sale

Whereas, default has been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage executed, and delivered by Frank W. Kerle and Eva V. Kerle, of Brainerd, Crow Wing County, Minnesota, mortgagors, to Samuel Walker of said Brainerd, mortgagee, dated the fourth day of December,
A. D. eighteen hundred and eighty three and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of the county of Crow Wing in the state of Minnesota, on the fifth day of December, A. D. 1884, at 10:30 o'clock a. m., in book C of Mortgages, on page 179, on which there is claimed to be due, at the date of this notice, the amount of Three hundred and twenty dollars, and thirty three cents, and no action or proceeding has been taken to enforce the same, or to recover the debt secured by said mortgage or any part thereof. And whereas said mortgage was duly assigned by said Samuel Walker to Charles A. Walker of Minneapolis, Minnesota, by assignment, dated the fourth day of April, A. D. 1884, and recorded in the office of said Register of Deeds on the fifth day of April, A. D. 1884, at 11:30 o'clock a. m., in book B of Mortgages on page 394.

Now, Notice is hereby given that by virtue of a power of sale contained in said mortgage, and of the state of Minnesota, on Tuesday the 23d day of September, A. D. eighteen hundred and eighty four, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, and at the place named in said mortgage, to-wit: at public auction at the front door of the Court House in the city of Brainerd, in the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, on Tuesday the 23d day of September, A. D. eighteen hundred and eighty four, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, will be sold to the highest bidder for cash, the premises described in said mortgage, to-wit: a certain lot situated in the county of Crow Wing and state of Minnesota, and known and described as follows, to-wit: Beginning at the southwest corner of block number two hundred and two in the town
of Brainerd, Thence north thirty seven and one-
half feet, thence east fifty feet, thence south
thirty seven and one-half feet, thence west fifty
feet to the place of beginning, being a part of lot number thirteen and fourteen of block number two hundred and two (202) in the town now city of Brainerd, according to the recorded plat
thereof on file in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said Crow Wing county, Minn-sota.

CHARLES A. WALKER, Mortgagee.
G. S. FRAVAIL, Attorney of Mortgagee,
Brainerd, Minn.

Dated August 5th, 1884. 34-71

Notice of Dissolution.

The partnership heretofore existing
between Frank Currie and A. L. Hoffman
as Frank Currie & Co., is this day dissolved by mutual consent. All debts owed by said firm are to be paid to Frank Currie, and all debts contracted by said firm to be paid by said Frank Currie.

FRANK CURRIE,
A. L. HOFFMAN.

Brainerd, Minn., July 26th, 1884.

Notice.

U. S. Land Office, St. Cloud, Minn., July 24th, 1884.

Complaint having been made at this office by Edgar E. Jones against William Dambly, for abandoning his Homestead Entry No. 1264 dated April 2nd, 1880, upon the A. S. sec. 4, sec. 4, sec.
5, sec. 5, and new sec. 8, Township 43 N., Range 21, in Crow Wing county, Minn., with a view to the cancellation of said entry, the said entry was hereby summoned to appear at this office on the 3rd day of November, 1884, at 11 o'clock in the forenoon, to show cause why the same should not be cancelled.

W. H. FREEMAN, Register.
W. B. MITCHELL, Receiver.

LOSEY & Harris

DEALERS IN PICTURE MOULDINGS, Upholstering Material
—AND—
PERFORATED CHAIR SEATS.

Bring your PICTURE and have
them FRAMED to order and
at BOTTOM PRICES.

NOW is the time to get LOUNGES,
EASY CHAIRS, AND SOFAS, recovered while prices are DOWN.

We are agents for the finest
GRAVE MARKERS' MONU-
MENTS and STATUARY known.
Call and see samples.

Basement Smith Block.

SGNOR BRIGNOLI,
The Hognowned Silver Voice Tenor.

Grand Midsummer night

Concert Company!

will give a delightful concert at

BRAINERD OPERA HOUSE

Saturday Ev'g, Aug. 16,

With the following well known talent:
Miss Henriette Hawkins, the young talented prima donna; Signor Brignoli, tenor; W. H. Buckden, bass; Fred Will,
the brilliant violinist of the northwest,
and the well known pianist, Mr. Frank Wood.

Admission 50 cents. Reserved Seats 75 cents.

Do You Know THAT LORILLARD'S CLIMAX
PLUG TOBACCO,

with Red Tin Tug; ROSE LEAF Fine cut chewing; NAVY CLIPPINGS, and Black Brown and Yellow snuffs are the best and cheapest quality considered. Aug 1-17.

Rogers House,

AITKIN, MINN.

G. W. NGRAHAM, Prop.

Only First-Class Hotel in Aitkin.

FINEST SAMPLE ROOM AND BAR WEST OF MINNE-APOLIS.

GO TO WADHAM'S Shoe Store,
THE LEADING SHOE STORE IN THE CITY.
Agents for Gray Bros., Saller, Lewin & Co., Curtis & Wheeler, Hannan & Son, and Nathan D. Dodge FINE SLIPPERS.

Wadham's Shoe Store,
SIXTH STREET.

MCFADDEN & JOHNSON
Pioneer Druggists,
—DEALERS IN ALL KINDS OF—

DRUGS MEDICINES
Druggists Sundries, etc.

We make a specialty of FINE RAZORS, TRUSSES and SHOUL-DER BRACES. A full line of FISHING TACKLE kept in stock this season. Sweet Home Washing Compound for sale by us.

Physicians' Prescriptions carefully compounded day or night.

Front St., between 5th & 6th Sts., Brainerd.

H. S. TOTTON,
DEALER IN

Fine Boots, Shoes and Slippers

SLEEPER BLOCK, FRONT STREET.

Emma E. French,
DEALER IN

Confections
AND LUNCHES,

Tobaccos, Cigars, Etc.

Fifth Street,
Opposite the Leland House and south
of Laurel Street.

This place is NEW, CLEAN NEAT, ORDERLY and FIRST
class in all respects.

Give us a trial and be convinced.

E. R. FRENCH Agent.

FRANK H. ELVIDGE
Dealer in

COAL and WOOD,
EAST OF FREIGHT OFFICE.

At Conklin, Clark & Co's, and at Branch Offices: C. A. Loomis' Grocery Store, East Brainerd.

Telephone Connections

HARNESS SHOP
CORNER LAUREL AND SIXTH STREETS.

Keep on hand an assortment of everything in the line.

Harness, Nets, Whips, Curbs

BRUSHES, BRIDLES, SADDLES, COLLARS.

D. W. WHITFORD.

New Restaurant
Fifth Street, Brainerd.

The undersigned would announce to
the public that she has recently opened
her restaurant on Fifth street next door
to Peter Ort's saloon on Fifth street, where she will be pleased to see all her
old customers and many new ones.

Open Day and Night.
Meals at all Hours!

Choice Butter and Eggs for Sale.

Home made Bread, Pies, Cake Etc.,
always in Stock.

Mrs. C. H. Closterman.

Wholesale Liquors

KENTUCKY LIQUOR CO.

PURE KENTUCKY WHISKIES,
AND A FULL LINE OF LIQUORS AND WINES, IMPORTED AND DOMESTIC
BELONGING TO THAT BRANCH OF BUSINESS LARGE STOCK ALWAYS ON HAND.

We Sell Also in Quantities of Half Pints and Upwards.
Also Full Line of Goods For FAMILY USES, MEDICINAL OR OTHERWISE.

Prices Low.

Orders by Mail Receive Careful and prompt Attention.
Open until 8:30 P. M., Saturdays until 9 P. M.

Laurel Street, Between Fifth and Sixth Streets,
BRAINERD, MINN.

You Will Find
A Complete Line

Furniture,
OF ALL KINDS. ALSO

Curtain Shades and Fixtures

WALL PAPER, ETC.

At Our New Store On Sixth Street, South of Post Office.

C. E. SMITH & CO.
CENERAL LAND OFFICE.

C. B. SLEEPER,

Attorney at Law

And Real Estate Agent.

MONTHLY PAYMENTS FOR CHEAP RESIDENCE LOTS IN SLEEPER'S ADDITION.

GOOD BUSINESS LOTS ON FRONT STREET.

OFFICE IN
SLEEPER BLOCK, - - - BRAINERD

IF YOU WANT TO

P A I N T.

Paper or Kalsomine Your House,
Call on BRADFORD & BENNETT, House, Sign and Carriage Painters,

LAUREL ST., between Fourth and Fifth Streets, BRAINERD, MINN

E. E. M. SMITH,

DEALER IN

Choice Cigars, Tobaccos, and Pipes.

Nuts, Fruits and Confectionary

Sign of the RED SQUAW.

F. A. B. KING & CO.,

Successors to CAVER & MOHLE.

—DEALERS IN—

WOOD AND COAL
ASO
Stucco and Plastering Hair.

MARBLE HEAD LIME IN BARRELS

Charcoal for Sale.

BRAINERD, MINN

New Advertisements.

R. Parker,
DEALER IN CONFECTIONERY,
and Fancy Groceries.
Tobaccoes and Cigars.
Everything Fresh. No old stock.
NO. 6, FRONT STREET, EAST.

CITY BAKERY

Fresh Bread, Pies,
Cake, Etc.
Every Day, delivered in all parts of the city.

Ornamental Cakes.
A Specialty. All orders promptly attended to.
The Celebrated Snow Bird

Flour.
For Sale at Bottom Prices.
HILLS & FAIRBANKS, Props.,
Ninth Street, near Main.

Frank Currie's
Saloon & Sample Room
SIXTH STREET,
Three Doors north of Laurel, west side,
is the place to get the

Choles Liquors and Cigars
in the City.
Free Lunch every forenoon. Give us a call and be satisfied, that we keep the best placin town.

Brainerd
MEAT MARKET

S. WALKER, Prop.

Fresh and Salt Meat
of all kinds.

NO. 8, EAST FRONT STREET

American Agriculturist, 100 Columns and 100 Engravings in each issue.
43d Year. $1.50 a Year.

Send two cent stamps for Sample copy.
(Killed by General and admitted list of the Orange and Blue Agricultural Journal in the world.) ORANGE JUD CO., DAVID W. JUD, Pres.
751, Broadway, New York.

CLEVELAND & HENDRICKS
1884 AGENTS WANTED. 1884.

For the only genuine PICTORIAL Biographies
of the Democratic Candidates for President and Vice President. Authentic and exhaustive in fact, profuse and artistic in illustration, containing the most reliable and up-to-date information. Rich in matter and low in price. See the specimens. Send 50 cents for outfit and the special practical instruction in the best method of selling it. Success and large profits assured. Acceptance for mailing authorized. Address, N. D. THOMPSON & CO., Publishers,
St. Louis, Mo., or New York City.

BRAINERD
Steam Laundry

A. T. Brooks Prop.

We are prepared to execute work
promptly and guarantee satisfaction.
Charges reasonable. Work
called for and Delivered.

FAMILY WASHING A SPEC-IALTY.

Laundry Cor. Front and 4th Streets

Professional Cards.

DR. H. RIBBEL.

DENTIST.
Rooms 3 and 4 over Post Office.

BRAINERD. MINN.

G. S. FERNALD.

(Successor to Fernald & Fernald.)

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

Rooms 1 and 2 Over Post Office.

W. A. FLEMING.

ATTORNEY AT LAW.

Office Room 8.

SLEEPER BLOCK. BRAINERD.

R. K. WHITELY.

Civil Engineer and Surveyor.

Office, Room 2, Sleeper Block.

BRAINERD. MINN.

C. O. PAQUIN, M. D.

Office at Corner of 10th and Front Streets. Residence corner of 10th and Juniper Streets.

Opposite Episcopal Church.

BRAINERD. MINNESOTA.

Office hours 8 to 11 a. m. and 2 to 5 p. m. Telephone connection between office and residence.

BRAINERD. MINN.

Local News

"Severn, bring me a stick of gum." The bridge signs should be taken down.

The county fair will be held at Brainerd.

The commissioners were in session on Tuesday.

Are you going to take in the steamboat ride Sunday?

This issue of the Dispatch is unavoidably delayed on account of non-arrival of our patents.

You can drive your horse faster than a walk on the bridge now. The precedent
has been established.

B. E. Banker has resigned from the police force. He expects to have a similar position in Minneapolis.

The Canadian editors passed through Brainerd on Tuesday on their way west
over the Northern Pacific.

One hundred and thirty soldiers on their way to Fort Snelling passed through the city on Tuesday's morning passenger.

Capt. Houghton will put a steamer on
the river here next season, which will be
a permanent thing for Brainerd.

Chas. Glass has sold his Mille Lac farm to St. Cloud parties for $1,500 and will move his family to Brainerd.

"Gentlemen will please remove their
hats while skating" is the new sign posted up in the rink. A very good idea.

The new sign of A. L. Hoffman, the flour and feed man on Front street has attracted considerable attention. It is neat and tasty.

The stock of goods belonging to C. Roth
has been purchased by Seely & Buck, who
will occupy his place of business the first of September. Mr. Roth goes to St. Paul.

Cohen Bros. of the 29 Cent Store have
rented the Koop store occupied at present by Seely & Buck, and will move their stock of goods into it the first of September.

Five thousand barrels of water are
pumped up from the Mississippi river to the city every day by the water works.
A good share of this is consumed by the railroad company.

Charlie White has commenced the
erection of a residence on Norwood street
near I. U. White's dwelling. This looks a little as though Charlie's recent visits below had been fruitful.

The band surprised and serenaded the
citizens Wednesday from the cupola of
the Villard. This makes a fine place for
the band and the whole town gets the benefit of their fine music.

There is a sign at each end of the bridge which reads: "Ten dollars fine
for riding or driving on this bridge faster than a walk." They don't mean anything though, they were put up for the fun of the thing.

The legislative bee is beginning to buzz quite lively in this immediate locality.
Whether the faction that is offering grand positions for prospective legislators and public works to political manipulators will gain their point remains to be seen.

Dick McCarthy says the next time he wants to go to Deerwood on an excursion
he is going to have the extras purchased
and be at the depot a day ahead. Mac
was unable to catch the train although he ran fully four blocks at a speed which would beat Jay Eye See's best time.

Ed. Gray's Gem Sample Room on 6th street was burglarized on Sunday night
to the extent of $9.00 in cash and 500
cigars. The thieves gained access to the
building by the back door and succeeded
in getting away with the articles without
attracting the attention of the police.

We hear the question asked "Why does not the Cleveland and Hendricks club
materialize, and the Globe correspondent
who by the way is well qualified to talk
to a mule, get off that much promised bray of his? It is asserted that Relf is in great trouble, and his Democratic gripings will defunct him sure, if relief is not soon extended.

The Tribune made a very rash assertion last week by announcing that it is a news paper. The public will rest easier
now. They have been wondering all along what it was. What puzzles the
public now is to find out who had the extreme gall to thus inform the management.

A Montana steer broke out of a car
that was standing on the track on Wednesday morning and started on a run for the woods, and up to the present time no trace of it has been found. It stands the railroad company in hand to watch their Montana cattle for it is next thing to impossible to catch one if it
once gets away.

M. B. Logan, who has carried on the merchant tailoring business on Sixth street has sold out to Mr. Whitford, one
of his employees, who will continue the
same. Mr. Logan goes to attend his large farm in Dakota. He has many
warm friends here who will testify that
he was as much of a friend of the "white man" as a certain newspaper of this city.

The lucky number that drew the life
sized portrait at McColl's gallery was 70, and was held by Miss Rellie Withrow of East Brainerd. The portrait will be worth $65 when completed. McColl will immediately issue tickets for a second drawing which will be carried out on the same plan as the former, there being two prizes, a full size and a half size portrait.

On Tuesday night burglars entered the
coal and wood office of F. A. B. King & Co., situated below the freight house between 8th and 9th streets. They battered
the outside door of the safe until they broke it from the hinges and removed it.
The inside door was tampered with, but
they were evidently scared away before
they finished their job, as it was not
opened but was sprung in such shape that it could not be opened even with the
key. Had they succeeded in getting into the safe they would have had their trouble for nothing as no cash of any consequence is ever left over night there, the safe being a small one and used only for a protection for the books of the firm in case of fire. The tools they used were crow bars and pick axes.

The picnic to Deerwood on Tuesday
by the Congregational Sunday School was a success in all its features. The
day was all that could have been wished,
the participants were in good humor and
the number, 150, was enough to dispel
any fear of getting lonesome that might have been indulged. The excursion left the depot at 8:30 attached to the Duluth passenger, the coaches being cut off at Deerwood, and were brought back by the four o'clock freight. The day was enjoyed largely by the children and even
the older portion of the pleasure party
seemed to be deriving a certain amount
of amusement from the trip. Deerwood is a fine place for picnics and in time
to come will undoubtedly be a resort of considerable note.

Lawyer Fernald has been carrying his arm in a sling this week from the effects
of rheumatism.

Dr. C. A. Hughes returned to Duluth
this afternoon from the west. He will remain in the city for a couple of weeks
to care the afflicted. The doctor is accompanied by his wife who is also a physician.—Duluth Herald.

This is the same M. D. that received
rough handling by the board of physicians
of Brainerd a few months ago, and whose
diploma was revoked by the state board
for certain reasons. The doctor spent
one night in the county jail here.

Mrs. O'Neill administratrix of the estate of the late Jack O'Neill has been removed by the court from that position, P. Metz being appointed in her place.
The cause was on account of crooked business being done in the shape of ten
barrels of prime goods being shipped to Wisconsin by Mrs. O'Neill in her maiden name and which belonged to the estate.
The goods have been recalled and the matter will be fixed up the first of the week.

An N. P. freight brakeman named Barney Smith was arrested on Wednesday night for robbing a man of $4.50.
The man had asked for a ride west, so he could go to work in the harvest fields, and the brakeman told him all right, but when he got to the freight car, he was asked to "shell out" and he gave the b. h., a quarter, whereupon he was pounced upon and all his cash taken from him. The man was poor and an outrage of this kind should not be passed over lightly. This is not the first occurrence of the kind reported.

The numerous Indians who have been in and around Brainerd for the past three or four weeks held their annual blueberry dance on Tuesday, which, to a person who had never witnessed a pow wow of this kind was quite amusing.
The drum around which fourteen or fifteen men were seated, each vying with the other to see who could pound it the most number of times, sent forth its sweet (p) music, which, mingled with the song of the dancers, the squaws and the Indian dogs, produced a weird sound, which soon brought a large crowd out.
The principal feature of the cotillion party was the old warrior from whose back hung seven feathers, each feather decorated with a silver ring and in br-gone time made little the dust in death struggle, and who passed the battle for stray coppers that the white man wished to get rid of. The Indians are fast getting onto the racket of the white man, for after giving an open air exhibition, the same as the circus here they rent a room walking performance, they rented a room on 7th street and charged admission, but the attendance was small.

Wants His Money.

Minnesota Tribune.

C. F. Kindred has entered suit in the district court against Thomas Jones.
The complaint alleges that the defendant in 1883 was under contract to do certain work for the United States by reason of which the plaintiff loaned him $2,700.
The government had paid the defendant $3,000 on his contract, but no part of the loan has been paid. The action is to recover the $2,700. The Silver and Copper Island Mining company is also garnished for the amount.

Worth Your While.

The opening of a new grocery establishment in a city like Brainerd is not an unusual or startling piece of news, but nevertheless the people all like to be kept posted in regard to such matters, and it will be worth your while to step into the new store of Tom Sandford's at the corner of 6th and Laurel if you desire to keep posted in regard to prices. Mr. Sandborn is well known to Brainerd people and we have no doubt will receive a share of the patronage.

County Fair at Brainerd.

At the meeting of the Agricultural Society on Saturday last it was decided to hold the county fair at Brainerd instead of Crow Wing as first announced, the change being made at the request of the farmers interested and the business men of this city. The society will hold their first annual meeting the second week in September on the grounds of the Brainerd Driving Park Association which are now being put in readiness for the occasion. It is to be hoped that the citizens generally will take an interest in the move and make it a success.

Fun for Sportsmen Ahead.

A Driving Park Association has been formed in this city with C. F. Kindred as president. The work of constructing the track and buildings necessary is under the supervision of S. H. Relf, county surveyor, who is diligently at work upon the same and which is to be completed in time for the county fair in September.
Mr. Kindred will bring his trotting stock to the stables of the association, as soon as they are completed, from Valley City, D. T., he having sold his park at that place. This will be a grand addition to our thriving city, and will afford plenty of amusement for the lovers of the horse flesh of which our city has the share. The park will be located in the south part of the city.

Annual Meeting.

At the annual meeting of the local Board of Insurance held at the office of Keene & Nevers on Wednesday evening the following officers were elected: President—M. McFadden.
Vice President—J. H. Koop.
Secretary and Treasurer—Geo. A. Keene.
Audit Committee—J. N. Nevers, G. S.
Fernald, J. H. Koop and M. McFadden.

The secretary was instructed to write to the state board and advise them to the effect that the local board would reduce their rates and submit to them on their next meeting provided the state board was represented, and if not the reduction would be adopted by the local board as pro rata.

Steamboat Excursion.

Capt. George Houghton arrived at Brainerd on Thursday with his stern wheel steamer "Fawn" from Aitken, which he proposes to keep at this place for the next month, during which time he will use his boat for the accommodation of excursion parties, etc. The first excursion will take place on Sunday, August 10th and will go down the river to Crow Wing and Fort Ripley, stopping at some convenient place for a picnic dinner, which of course will be carried by the excursionists. The boat will leave the west end of the wagon bridge at 8 o'clock Sunday morning and will return before dark. The Brainerd band will accompany the party and a merry time is expected. This being the first time that an event of this kind has occurred here it is expected a large crowd will participate.
Besides the commodious stamper there is a large barge attached which makes the capacity 300 or 400 people. The tickets for the round trip will be $1.00.
Capt. Houghton ran on Crow Wing here some 14 years ago from Crow Wing to Aitken and Grand Rapids, and is well acquainted with the channel so no fears need be entertained of any accident.
Tickets will be on sale at Cable's and one or two other places. Let there be a large turnout.

Is He Cully.

Bridge Watchman Cross arrested Hon.
G. G. Hartley on Monday for driving on the wagon bridge faster than a walk, and Mr. H. was brought before the police court, plead not guilty and demanded a jury trial which was set for Thursday.

George Holland appeared for the county and Mr. Hartley plead his own cause.
The jury impaneled was as follows: C.
H. Conklin, J. S. Church, S. Walker, Harry Brooks, E. O. Webb, F. M. Cable, J. McElroy, L. J. Cale, C. M. Patek, H.
Rosenblatt, Wm. Dresskell and John Orr.

Three or four witnesses were brought out to the stand who testified that the defendant did on the day mentioned drive on the bridge, or what is generally termed the approach to the bridge, faster than a walk. Mr. Hartley's only witness being the contractor who built the structure by whom he desired to prove that it would not damage it one cent's worth to trot across it, but the court would not admit the evidence claiming that it was not pertinent. Mr. Hartley then delivered his maiden speech to the jury in which he claimed that the approach to the bridge, on which he admitted that he drove faster than a walk, did not come under the law as it was not the bridge proper, and even if it was that did not hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon make good pasture, as the grass would surely grow therein. He also thought it a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out
as it had been commenced, that it would
soon be the cause of driving trade from
the city and that the streets would soon
make good pasture, as the grass would
surely grow therein. He also thought it
a disgrace to be arrested a man who comes
under the law as it was not the bridge
proper, and even if it was that did not
hurt it one cent's worth. He also claimed
that if this fine business was carried out as it had been

